2019 WASHINGTON REDSKINS SEASON IN REVIEW

REDSKINS 2019 REGULAR SEASON SUMMARY

The Washington Redskins ended the 2019 season with a 3-13 record and a fourth-place finish in the NFC East. As a result of the team's 2019 campaign, the Redskins will enter the 2020 NFL Draft in April with the No. 2 overall selection.

As the season went on, the Redskins increasingly relied on their strong rookie class. The team finished with 5,428 rookie snaps, the third-highest total in the league, and were able to win back-to-back games against the Lions and Panthers in Weeks 12 and 13. Of the team's 13 losses, five were by one possession and 10 were by 10 or fewer points. The team placed a total of 21 players on injured reserve by season's end.

On offense, rookie Quarterback Dwayne Haskins Jr. showed improvement throughout the season, especially in his final five starts. From Weeks 12-16, Haskins Jr.'s quarterback rating increased each game, concluding with a 143.2 rating against the Giants in Week 16. The 2019 season was one for the record books for Running Back Adrian Peterson, who moved into the top five all-time in both career rushing yards and rushing touchdowns with 14,216 and 111, respectively. Guard Brandon Scherff was selected to his third career Pro Bowl.

It was a breakout year for Defensive Tackle Matt Ioannidis, who led the team with 8.5 sacks to go along with a selection as a Pro Bowl alternate. Safety Landon Collins finished the season with 117 total tackles, the third-highest total by a defensive back in 2019. It was the fourth season in his five-year career with more than 100 tackles.

The Redskins now await their 2020 schedule, which will feature the opponents listed below.

2019 DRAFT RECAP

TEAM DRAFT NOTES

» Dating back to 2011, the Redskins have now selected at least seven players in nine consecutive drafts for the first time since the league adopted the seven-round format in 1994.

» The Redskins completed the 2019 NFL Draft without making a selection in the second round. It is the ninth time since the seventh-round draft format was established the Redskins did not make a selection in the second round.

» Including their eight selections in the 2018 NFL Draft, the Redskins have now selected eight or more players in three consecutive drafts for the first time since the NFL adopted the seven-round format in 1994.

» With the 10 selections, the Redskins have now drafted at least 10 players in three of the last five NFL drafts.

» The Redskins made two trades during the draft. On Day 1, the Redskins sent the No. 46 pick [2019] and a future second-round selection in the 2020 NFL Draft to the Indianapolis Colts for the No. 26 overall selection. On Day 2, the team traded the No. 96 overall pick to the Buffalo Bills for the Nos. 112 and 131 selections.

» Of the Redskins 10 selections, three were made with picks acquired by trade, including draft-day trades with Indianapolis [LB Montez Sweat] and the Buffalo Bills [RB Bryce Love and G Wes Martin].

» The Redskins selected three players using compensatory picks [LB Cole Holcomb, WR Kelvin Harmon and LB Jordan Brailford]. The selections using compensatory picks were the most by the Redskins and the first selections using a compensatory pick since the organization drafted NT Chris Neild with a compensatory pick in the 2011 NFL Draft.

» The Redskins have selected at least three players with picks acquired via trade in each of the last six drafts. It is the team's longest such stretch since a five-draft span from 1985-89.

» The Redskins selected a pair of college teammates in three consecutive drafts to include: DL Jonathan Allen and Ryan Anderson [Alabama, 2017], DL Daron Payne and LB Shaun Dion Hamilton [Alabama, 2018], DL Tim Settle and CB Greg Stroman [Virginia Tech, 2018] and QB Dwayne Haskins and WR Terry McLaurin [Ohio State, 2019]. This marks the second occurrence the Redskins have selected teammates in three consecutive drafts. The organization drafted teammates in three straight drafts from 2011-2013 including RB Roy Helu, S DeJon Gomes and WR Niles Paul [Nebraska, 2011], G Adam Gettis and CB Jordan Bernstine [Iowa, 2012], and RB Chris Thompson and LB Brandon Jenkins [Florida State, 2013].

» The Redskins have now selected at least one pair of college teammates in seven of the last nine drafts [Nebraska's Roy Helu Jr., DeJon Gomes and Niles Paul in 2011; SMU's Josh LeRibeus and Richard Crawford and Iowa's Adam Gettis and Jordan Bernstine in 2012; Florida State's Chris Thompson and Brandon Jenkins in 2013; Arkansas' Martrell Spaight and Tevin Mitchel in 2015; Alabama's Jonathan Allen and Ryan Anderson in 2017; Alabama's Daron Payne and Shaun Dion Hamilton; Virginia Tech's Tim Settle and Greg Stroman in 2018; Ohio State's Dwayne Haskins and Terry McLaurin in 2019].

» The 2019 NFL Draft marks the fourth time the Redskins have selected a pair of teammates out of Ohio State [1952, 1961 and 1963].

» The Redskins made multiple picks in the seventh round for the fourth consecutive year, marking the team's first four-year stretch with multiple seventh-round picks since selecting at least two players in that round in each of the 2010-12 NFL Drafts.

» The Redskins selected four defensive players and have now picked at least four defensive players in five consecutive drafts for the first time since 1989-93, when the draft consisted of 12 rounds.

» Nine of the Redskins draft picks played their collegiate careers in the Football Bowl Subdivision, ending a six-year streak of the team's entire draft class playing at the FBS level. James Madison's Jimmy Moreland played in the Football Championship Subdivision. The last Redskins draft pick to play in the Football Championship Subdivision was South Dakota's Tom Compton [2012].

» Nine of the 10 members of the Redskins' draft class played at schools in "Power Five" conferences.

» The Redskins selected three players from the Big Ten, two players from the Southeastern Conference, two players from the Atlantic Coast Conference and one player each from the Pac-12 Conference, Big 12 Conference and Colonial Athletic Association. The SEC leads all conferences with 16 of the Redskins 53 selections since 2014, followed by the ACC with 12 selections.

QB DWAYNE HASKINS [RD. 1, NO. 15]

» Haskins is the 475th selection made by the Redskins in the Common Draft era [since 1967] and the 30th first-round selection in that time frame. He is the 61st first-round selection by the Redskins all-time since the institution of the draft in 1936.

» The selection of Haskins marks the third time in the last five years that the Redskins have selected an offensive player in the first round, joining the selections of G Brandon Scherff [2015] and WR Josh Doctson [2016]. It marks the team's first time making three offensive first-round selections in that length of time since the 2000-02 drafts, when the team selected T Chris Samuels [2000], WR Rod Gardner [2001] and QB Patrick Ramsey [2002].

» Haskins becomes the first quarterback selected by the Redskins in the first round since the team drafted Baylor's Robert Griffin III in 2012.

» Haskins is the 48th quarterback selected by the Redskins all-time since the institution of the draft in 1936 and the 27th selection at the position made by the Redskins in the Common Draft era [since 1967].

» Haskins' selection marks the fifth time in the Common Draft era that the Redskins have selected a quarterback in the first round, joining Robert Griffin III [2012], Jason Campbell [2005], Patrick Ramsey [2002] and Heath Shuler [1994].

» Haskins is the 17th player from Ohio State University selected by the Redskins all time, joining C Steve Andrako [1940], E Cy Sounders [1945], B Vic Janowicz [1952], T Julius Wittman [1952], G George Rosso [1954], T Fran Machinsky [1956], T George Tolfold [1961], G Mike Ingram [1961], FB Tom Barrington [1966], E Ron Sepic [1967], RB Rich Galbos [1973], T Henry Brown [1988], G Tim Moxley [1990] and WR Evan Spencer [2015].

» With the selection of Haskins, Ohio State tied Michigan State [17] for the seventh-most draft selections in Redskins history.

» Haskins becomes the first Ohio State product to be selected by the Redskins in the first round in franchise history and the highest pick from the institution since drafting FB Tom Barrington in the third-round [No. 38 overall] of the 1966 NFL Draft.

» With the selection, Haskins becomes the fourth player selected all-time with the No.15 overall pick, joining B Eddie Salem [1951], B Joe Hernandez [1962] and WR Rod Gardner [2001].

LB MONTEZ SWEAT [RD. 1, NO. 26]

» Sweat is the 476th selection made by the Redskins in the Common Draft era [since 1967] and the 31st first-round selection in that time frame. He is the 62nd first-round selection by the Redskins all-time since the institution of the draft in 1936.

» Sweat's selection marks the third straight year in which the Redskins have selected a defensive player with a first-round pick in the draft, joining Jonathan Allen [No. 17 overall in 2017] and Daron Payne [No. 13 overall in 2018]. This is the first time in team history the Redskins selected defensive players with a first-round pick selection in three consecutive drafts.

» Sweat's selection marks the seventh time in the Common Draft era that the Redskins have selected a pass rusher in the first round, joining Daron Payne [2018], Jonathan Allen [2017], Ryan Kerrigan [2011], Brian Orakpo [2009, transitioned to linebacker in 2010], Kenard Lang [1997] and Bobby Wilson [1991]. The Redskins also selected Tracy Rocker [1989, third round], Markus Koch [1986, second round], Bob Slater [1984, second round], Duncan McColl [1977, fourth round] and Bill Brundige [1970, second round] with the team's first selections of each of the drafts listed.

» With the selections of Sweat, Payne and Allen, the Redskins have now used first-round selections on defensive linemen in three consecutive drafts for the first time in the Common Draft era.

» Sweat is the sixth player from Mississippi State selected by the Redskins all-time, joining C Dave Price [1938], B Charlie Yancey [1943], C Charley Cadenhead [1946], CB Fred Smoot [2001] and LB Preston Smith [2015].

» Sweat's selection marks the first time the franchise has drafted a player with the No. 26 overall pick in the Common Draft Era and the second time the Redskins used the No. 26 overall pick when the team selected B Maurice Elder in the third round of the 1937 NFL Draft.

» Sweat is the ninth Southeastern Conference product selected by the Redskins in the first round in the Common Draft era. The Redskins have now selected an SEC product in the first round of three consecutive drafts for the first time in team history.

» Sweat was selected with a pick acquired by the Redskins in a draft day trade in which the Redskins sent the No. 46 [2019] and a future second-round pick [2020] to Indianapolis in exchange for the No. 26 overall pick in the first round. It marked the Redskins first selection using an acquired pick in the 2019 NFL Draft.

WR TERRY MCLAURIN [RD. 3, NO. 76]

» McLaurin is the 477th selection made by the Redskins in the Common Draft era [since 1967] and the 36th third-round selection in that time frame. He is the 66th third-round selection by the Redskins all-time since the institution of the draft in 1936.

» McLaurin becomes the second offensive player to be selected by the Redskins in the 2019 NFL Draft joining college teammate QB Dwayne Haskins.

» With the selection of Terry McLaurin and Dwayne Haskins, the Redskins have now drafted teammates from Ohio State in four drafts. The Redskins drafted Buckeye teammates B Vic Janowicz and T Julius Wittman [1952], G Mike Ingram and T George Tolford [1961] and B Dave Francis and G Rod Foster [1963].

» Dating back to 2014, the Redskins have now selected a wide receiver in seven consecutive drafts, the team's longest stretch since taking a receiver in 10 consecutive drafts from 1994-2003.

» With the selection of McLaurin and Haskins, the Redskins have now drafted teammates in three consecutive drafts to include: DL Jonathan Allen and LB Ryan Anderson [Alabama, 2017], DL Daron Payne and LB Shaun Dion Hamilton [Alabama, 2018] and DL Tim Settle and CB Greg Stroman [Virginia Tech, 2018]. This marks the second occurrence the Redskins have selected teammates in three consecutive drafts. The organization drafted teammates in three straight drafts from 2011-2013 including RB Roy Helu, S DeJon Gomes and WR Niles Paul [Nebraska, 2011], G Adam Gettis and CB Jordan Bernstine [Iowa 2012], and RB Chris Thompson and LB Brandon Jenkins [Florida State, 2013].

» McLaurin is the second Ohio State product selected by the Redskins in the third round in franchise history joining FB Tom Barrington [1966].

» McLaurin is the 18th Ohio State product selected by the Redskins all-time, joining C Steve Andrako [1940], E Cy Souders [1945], B Vic Janowicz [1952], T Julius Wittman [1952], G George Rosso [1954], T Fran Machinsky [1956], T George Tolford [1961], G Mike Ingram [1961], B Dave Francis [1963], G Rod Foster [1963], FB Tom Barrington [1966], E Ron Sepic [1967], RB Rich Galbos [1973], T Henry Brown [1988], G Tim Moxley [1990], Evan Spencer [2015] and Dwayne Haskins [2019].

» With the selection of McLaurin, Ohio State tied Tennessee and Maryland [18] for the sixth-most draft selections in Redskins history.

» McLaurin becomes the second wide receiver produced by Ohio State selected by the Redskins in franchise history, joining Evan Spencer [2015].

» The selection of McLaurin at No. 76 overall marks the fourth-highest draft pick from Ohio State, trailing only Dwayne Haskins [No. 15 in 2019], Tom Barrington [No. 38 in 1966] and Fran Machinsky [No. 41 in 1956].

» McLaurin becomes the eighth player selected by the Redskins all-time with the No. 76 overall pick, joining E Joel Eaves [1937], B Frank Swiger [1942], B Johnny Papit [1951], E Erick Christensen [1955], T Don Lawerence [1959], G Moe Elewonibi [1990] and RB Ricky Ervins [1991].

RB BRYCE LOVE [RD. 4, NO. 112]

» Love is the 478th selection made by the Redskins in the Common Draft era [since 1967] and the 35th fourth-round selection in that time frame. He is the 50th fourth-round selection by the Redskins all-time since the institution of the draft in 1936.

» Love becomes the 26th offensive player selected by the Redskins in the fourth round in franchise history.

» Love becomes the first running back selected by the Redskins in the fourth round since the team drafted Oklahoma's Samaje Perine with the No. 114 overall pick in 2017.

» Dating back to 2011, the Redskins have now selected a running back in nine consecutive drafts, tying the team's longest stretch since taking a running back in nine consecutive years across the 1983-91 drafts, which each consisted of 12 rounds.

G WES MARTIN [RD. 4, NO. 131]

» Martin is the 479th selection made by the Redskins in the Common Draft era [since 1967] and the 36th fourth-round selection in that time frame. He is the 51st fourth-round selection by the Redskins all-time since the institution of the draft in 1936.

» Martin becomes the third offensive lineman selected by the Redskins in the first four rounds since 2015 joining Brandon Scherff [1st round 2015], and Geron Christian Sr. [3rd round, 2018].

» Martin becomes the first offensive lineman selected by the Redskins in the fourth round since the team drafted Troy's Michael Moore with the No. 129 overall pick in the 2000 NFL Draft.

» Martin is the ninth player from Indiana University selected by the Redskins all-time, joining E Brad Bomba [1957], G-LB Don Croftcheck [1965], LB Stu O'Deall [1974], DB Quinn Buckner [1976], » QB Babe Laufenburg [1983], QB Gibran Hamdan [2003], TE Rob Bolser [2014], and QB Nate Sudfeld [2016].

» Martin's selection at No. 131 overall represents the highest the Redskins have selected an Indiana product since selecting G-LB Don Croftcheck during the 1965 NFL Draft [105th overall]

» Martin becomes the third player selected by the Redskins all-time with the No. 131 overall pick, joining G Tom Powell [1956] and LB Jack Shinholser [1966].

TENTATIVE 2020 NFL DRAFT ORDER

The Draft order is determined by the following procedures:

(A) The winner of the Super Bowl game shall select last and the loser of such game shall select next-to-last in all rounds, regardless of the record of such participating clubs in the regular season.

(B) The losers of the Conference championship games shall select 29th and 30th in all rounds, according to the reverse order of their standing.

(C) The losers of the Divisional playoff games shall select in the 25th through 28th positions in all rounds, according to the reverse order of their standing.

(D) The losers of the Wild Card games shall select in the 21st through 24th positions in all rounds, according to the reverse order of their standing.

(E) Clubs not participating in the playoffs shall select in the first through 20th positions in all rounds, according to the reverse order of their standing.

If, after all the foregoing procedures have been applied, ties still exist in any grouping except (A) above, such ties shall be broken by figuring the aggregate won-lost-tied percentage of each involved club's regular season opponents and awarding preferential selection order to the club which faced the schedule of teams with the lowest aggregate won-lost-tied percentage.

If ties still exist, the divisional or conference tie-breaking method, if applicable, shall be applied. If neither the divisional nor the conference tie-breaking methods are applicable, ties shall be broken by a coin flip conducted by the Commissioner.

Clubs involved in two-club ties will alternate positions from round-to-round. In ties that involve three or more clubs, the club at the top of a tied segment in a given round will move to the bottom of the segment for the next round, while all other clubs in the segment move up one position. This rotation continues throughout the Draft.

2019 SEASON IN REVIEW

DIVISION PARITY

Parity has been a topic de jour in recent years, and the league-wide trends provide the evidence. Each year since the 12-team playoff format was adopted in 1990, at least four teams have qualified for the playoffs after missing the postseason the year before. Through 2019, the NFC East and the NFC West are the only divisions to have all four teams earn at least one division title since 2011.

13 YEARS, NO NFC EAST REPEATS

No division has been more hotly contested in this era than the NFC East, as the 2019 season marked the division's 15th consecutive campaign without a repeat champion, easily the league's longest stretch. No other division has gone more than three years since their last repeat champion.

BRINGING THE HEAT

It's no secret that the Redskins have one of the best defensive lines in the league with Defensive Tackles Jonathan Allen, Matt Ioannidis and Daron Payne. Combined the trio, all under 25, have totaled 41.5 sacks in their career. Add the Linebackers Ryan Anderson and Montez Sweat coming off the edge and it's easy to see why Washington has one of the most feared fronts in the league. The Redskins currently rank 10th in the league in sacks with 46 and seventh in the NFC. What's more impressive is the Redskins have tracked down a league-leading 41 sacks since Week 5.

ADRIAN PETERSON

"I think he's got a lot of fuel left in the tank."

- Senior Vice President of Player Personnel Doug Williams on Adrian Peterson

The Washington Redskins relied on seven-time Pro Bowl Running Back Adrian Peterson once again during the 2019 season, a season that saw him enter legendary territory in regards to rushing statistics.

In his 13th season, Peterson carried the ball 211 times for 898 yards and five touchdowns. Against the Dallas Cowboys in Week 2, Peterson rushed for his 107th career touchdown, passing Jim Brown for fifth on the all-time rushing touchdown list. His 76 yard rushing performance in Week 8 versus his former team, the Minnesota Vikings, catapulted him past Jerome Bettis and LaDainian Tomlinson for sixth all-time in career rushing yards. In a Week 15 matchup against the Philadelphia Eagles, Peterson was responsible for 66 rushing yards and a touchdown. The performance placed him fifth all-time in rushing yards and tied him with Walter Payton for fourth all-time in rushing touchdowns at 110. Peterson would take sole possession of fourth in career rushing touchdowns with a score versus the New York Giants the following week.

Peterson rushed for over 100 yards twice during the 2019 season. In Week 6 versus the Miami Dolphins, he accounted for 118 rushing yards and in Week 9 against the Buffalo Bills, Peterson ran for another 108.

With a late-season push, Peterson was able to surpass Walter Payton in career rushing touchdowns. He scored one touchdown in four consecutive games, from Week 13 through Week 16.

This was Peterson's 10th season in which he accounted for over 1,000 yards from scrimmage as he posted 1,040 combined yards on the season. In his two seasons with the Redskins, Peterson has totaled 2,290 total yards and over 1,000 in each season respectively.

He has been selected to seven Pro Bowls and was the 2012 NFL MVP after finishing second all-time in rushing yards in a single season (2,097). The future Hall of Famer currently ranks sixth all-time in rush yards per game (86.7), fourth all-time in rushing touchdowns (111) and is fifth in rushing yards (14,216).

Adrian Peterson finished the game one yard shy of 100, but combined with RB Derrius Guice to rush for over 200 on the day. Peterson finished the game with 13 carries for 99 rushing yards and one touchdown. Peterson passed Hall of Famer Terrell Owens for No. 13 all-time in scrimmage yards during the contest and was a major factor in the Redskins third win of the season and first consecutive wins since Weeks 7-8 of the 2018 regular season.

WEEK 16
REDSKINS VS GIANTS
DEC. 22, 2019
FEDEXFIELD

PETERSON PASSES HALL OF FAMER WALTER PAYTON FOR NO.4 ALL-TIME IN RUSHING TOUCHDOWNS

In Washington's final home game of the season, Adrian Peterson made history in front of the home fans. He finished the overtime thriller with 36 yards on 15 carries and hauled in two receptions for 19 yards receiving. He scored a touchdown on a one yard run in the fourth quarter that moved him past Hall of Famer Jim Brown for No. 4 all-time in rushing touchdowns.

TERRY MCLAURIN

The Redskins drafted Wide Receiver Terry McLaurin out of Ohio State in the third round of the 2019 NFL Draft and in doing so, they may have landed one of the biggest steals of the draft. McLaurin displayed his potential in just his first game, a start versus the Philadelphia Eagles that included 125 receiving yards and a touchdown on five receptions. Throughout the season, McLaurin proved to be a reliable weapon. In his first five games, he would post five touchdowns and twice break 100 yards receiving. In Week 6 against the Miami Dolphins, McLaurin racked up 100 yards and two touchdowns on four receptions. In his second outing against Philadelphia, McLaurin notched 130 yards and a touchdown on five receptions.

McLaurin finished the season with 58 receptinos for 919 yards and seven touchdown receptions in 14 games played. He led the Redskins in all major receiving categories and accounted for 28.7 percent of the team's total receiving yards during the 2019 season.

Among all rookies, McLaurin finished at or near the top in a variety of receiving categories. His 58 receptions tied for second most among rookies in 2019. He totaled the second most receiving yards by a rookie with 919 and was one of only three rookies to record more than 900 receiving yards on the season. McLaurin had an average of 15.8 yards per catch, the second highest yards per catch average among rookies with at least 20 receptions. His seven touchdowns tied him for third in the league among rookies.

McLaurin's 2019 season will go down In franchise history as one of the best by a rookie receiver. His 919 receiving yards and seven touchdowns place him second among all Redskins in their rookie seasons.

MOVING THE CHAINS

Terry McLaurin was one of the most consistent rookie receivers in the NFL during the 2019 season. Among all rookies, he finished tied for second in receptions and tied for third in receiving touchdowns.

"He never flinches. He's the same guy everyday. He has a steadiness and a calm about him and it's impressive... He's got the 'it' factor, as far as I'm concerned."

- Interim Head Coach Bill Callahan on Terry McLaurin

McLaurin recorded ten games with at least 50 yards receiving, a new franchise record for a rookie and received high praise all year from teammates and coaches alike. Interim Head Coach Bill Callahan said McLaurin's demeanor was what stood out to him.

"He never flinches. He's the same guy everyday. He has a steadiness and a calm about him and it's impressive. Nothing phases him. He just goes about his business as a professional... He's got the 'it' factor, as far as I'm concerned," Callahan said.

LANDON COLLLINS

The Washington Redskins kicked off the 2019 offseason by making a big addition to their defense. The team signed three-time Pro Bowler Landon Collins to a six-year deal to help bolster the secondary and provide a leader in the backend of the defense.

Collins comes to Washington after an impressive four seasons with the New York Giants. The hard hitting safety out of Alabama registered 428 total tackles [321 solo], four sacks for 39 total yards lost, eight interceptions, including a 44-yard interception returned for a touchdown, 32 passes defensed, 10 quarterback hits, 22 tackles for loss, three forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries during his four seasons with New York.

In the four seasons that Collins has been in the league, no safety has compiled more total tackles or solo tackles in that timeframe and he is also top 10 among safeties in tackles for loss and passes defensed during that span.

Collins' familiarity with the NFC East was also an intriguing part of bringing him to the nation's capital. In his four seasons with the Giants, Collins recorded 155 total tackles [112 solo], two sacks for 24 yards, two interceptions, 15 tackles for loss, two forced fumbles, one fumble recovery and seven passes defensed against the NFC East. His 15 tackles for loss against divisional opponents is the most in the NFL from 2015-18 among safeties.

Collins will be part of a defense that features a lot of familiar pieces. This season he will be reunited with former Alabama teammates Jonathan Allen, Ryan Anderson and Shaun Dion-Hamiliton. Collins will also be sharing the defensive backfield with his former teammate with the New York Giants, cornerback Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie. Collins and Rodgers-Cromartie both appeared in 45 games and started 31 games together with the Giants over the course of four seasons.

WREAKING HAVOC

Since being drafted in 2015, Collins has been one of the most consistent safeties in the league. He ranks top 10 in passes defensed and tackles for loss among all NFL safeties during that span.

"You talk about a guy with leadership. We watched him for the last four years do what he does on the football field. We talked to a lot of people about him - one thing we found out and I know I did was that everything that people say about him was true. He has charisma, he has leadership, but most of all it's all about passion when it comes to football."

Landon Collins has been selected to the Pro Bowl in three-consecutive seasons dating back to 2016. During that timeframe only two other safeties have been selected to three Pro Bowls and only one other has been selected to multiple. LANDON COLLLINS

Collins hasn't wasted anytime making his impact felt on defense. The newly acquired free agent stepped right into a starting role and was voted as a captain. The fifth-year Alabama product has led the youthful secondary since stepping on the practice feild in June.

In his first game wearing the Burgundy and Gold, Collins recorded seven tackles with six solo stops. His seven tackles against the Eagles were a career-high for the three-time Pro Bowler in a season opener. Collins has caused headaches for the Eagles since coming into the league. He has played nine games against Philadelphia and has posted at least seven tackles in all but two games. Collins' seven career tackles for loss against the Eagles are also the most against any team.

Collins followed up his performance against Philly with 12 tackles and a tackle for loss against the Cowboys in Week 2. The 12 tackles are the second most of his career and ninth double-digit tackle outing of his career. To find Collins on the field, all you have to do is follow the ball and you'll see him fighting through blockers or making open field tackles. Defensive Coordinator Greg Manusky says Collins has a natural feel for where to be.

"I think more than anything, Landon's an instinctual guy. He knows exactly where things are going, he has a feel for the game, which is outstanding," Manusky said.

Proving to be one of their best offseason additions, Collins has had at least seven tackles in 10 of the 16 games and leads the team in tackles through Week 16 [117 total]. He's currently on pace for 125 total tackles, which would tie his career high of 125 tackles in the 2016 season.

His 117 tackles this season place him 14th in the league among all players and third among all defensive backs. The fifth-year pro has shown time and time again that he is one of the best run-defending safeties in the league and 2019 has been no different. His nine tackles for loss is second among all defensive backs and his 7.5 stuffs are first.

FLYING TO THE BALL

Since 2017, Landon Collins has posted eight games with double-digit tackles. His career high is 14 tackles, achieving that mark three time seperate times.

MATT IOANNIDIS

Defensive Tackle Matt Ioannidis had a career season in his fourth year out of Temple. Chosen with the 152nd overall pick, the former fifth-rounder started all but one game this season and 34 since 2017. In 2019, Ioannidis led the team with 8.5 sacks and also posted 64 total tackles, 11 tackles for loss and 16 quarterback hits. Ioannidis set a new career high in sacks, tackles and tackles for loss.

While some may say Ioannidis' emergence under the radar, the Redskins have been well aware of his ability. In 2017, Ioannidis jumped on the scene with 4.5 sacks and 27 tackles in 14 games [10 starts] during his second season. Along with his 4.5 sacks, Ioannidis posted 17 quarterback hits, tying with Linebacker Ryan Kerrigan for second most on the team.

Ioannidis continued to trend upward in 2018, finishing the season with 31 tackles, 7.5 sacks and six tackles for loss. Teamed with fellow Defensive Tackles Jonathan Allen [eight] and Daron Payne [five], the youthful trio accounted for 45 percent of the team's sacks in 2018.

Since 2017, Ioannidis has 20.5 sacks, the sixth most among defensive tackles in that span. Ioannidis is a major key to Washington's 134 sacks since 2017, which is the seventh most within that time frame.

As he continues to produce, Ioannidis is beginning to turn heads. ESPN's Bill Barnwell placed the fourth-year tackle on his 2019 All-Underrated team. Barnwell called Ioannidis a "sound run defender" and highlighted his pass rush abilities.

"It's impressive for a 310-pound interior pass-rusher who the team once played as a nose tackle to hit those marks, but it's another when you consider the players around him. ESPN's automated analysis suggests Ioannidis has been double-teamed on 61.4% of his pass-rush attempts this season, which ranks among the 20 highest rates in football. Despite the attention, he has helped create eight sacks this season," Barnwell said.

While his pass-rushing skills were on full display in 2019, Ioannidis was just as well-rounded in the run game. Ioannidis' 64 total tackles [42 solo] placed him fifth on the team behind Safety Landon Collins [117], Linebacker Jon Bostic [105], Linebacker Cole Holcomb [101] and Defensive Tackle Jonathan Allen [68].

Ioannidis had six games with five or more tackles, including a career game against the 49ers in which he recorded nine tackles [eight solo]. He also had a stretch of five games in which he recorded a tackle for loss and recorded four sacks in three games from Week 12 to Week 14.

The respect for Ioannidis grew around the league in 2019, as he was selected as an alternate for the 2020 Pro Bowl. However, he's held respect in the locker room for some time now. Defensive Tackle Tim Settle called Ioannidis' effort "relentless" and said he's not one to do a lot of talking.

"[Matt Ioannidis] is definitely a person that walks the walk, not a 'talky-talk' guy. He's really one of them pop-it-off kind of guys. You've got to play him true because he's going to expose you, that's just how he is as far as strength and then there's his power, quickness. He utilizes quick points and he takes advantage of it. We all play different, he's one person you can't mess up on because he's going to embarrass you. He's going to get into you first, he's definitely initiating contact, he's definitely hitting someone in the mouth first," Settle said.

JONATHAN ALLEN

The Redskins drafted Defensive Tackle Jonathan Allen with the 17th pick of the 2017 draft to be the cornerstone of their revamped defensive line. By 2019, Allen has proven to be one of the league's top defensive linemen. The Virginia native played only five games his rookie season due to an injury. Since then, Allen has only missed one game and has tallied 139 total tackles, 18 tackles for loss and 15.0 sacks in 36 games. During that time span, Allen is fifth in tackles, seventh in sacks and tied for eighth in tackles for loss among all defensive tackles.

In 2018, Allen started all 16 games and finished with 61 tackles, 8.0 sacks and 11 tackles for loss. Allen ended his sophomore campaign with more tackles than five of the six defensive tackles selected for the 2019 Pro Bowl, including All Pro selections Aaron Donald and Fletcher Cox. In May, Pro Football Focus' Austin Gayle said he feels Allen is on the verge of making his first Pro Bowl.

"His 11.7 percent pass-rush win rate leads all qualifying interior defensive linemen from the 2017 NFL draft, as does his 9.3 pressure percentage and 51 total pressures. He is easily the best interior pass-rushing talent in the 2017 class and is within reach of elite play," Gayle said.

Fast forward a few years and Allen is living up to expectations. In 15 games in the 2019 season, Allen recorded 68 total tackles, 6.0 sacks and seven tackles for loss. Allen hit his stride in Week 5, notching one sack versus the Patriots and three more from Week 6 to Week 8.

In Week 7 against the undefeated San Francisco 49ers, Allen posted seven tackles [five solo] and helped the Redskins keep the 49ers out of the end zone all game. He backed that performance up with another seven tackle [three solo] game on the road versus the Vikings the following week. He also reeled in a sack and tackle for loss In Minnesota. It was the first time Allen has put together back-to-back seven tackle games.

Allen resides in elite company among NFL interior linemen both on the field and in the stat sheet. Since 2018, Allen has posted three games with at least 2.0 sacks and four games of at least two or more tackles for loss. He is one of seven defensive tackles to achieve that in the same time period.

RYAN KERRIGAN

If patience is a virtue, the Redskins were virtuous in the first round of the 2011 NFL Draft, as the team opted to trade back from its No. 10 overall selection to the 16th overall pick. With the selection, the Redskins selected Kerrigan, the then-defensive end out of Purdue.

Kerrigan has started all 128 regular season games played by the Redskins since he entered the league in 2011, the longest active streak of consecutive starts by any NFL linebacker. In 2016, Kerrigan became the first member of the Redskins to start all 16 games in each of the first six seasons of an NFL career since the adoption of the 16-game schedule in 1978. In Week 4 of the 2017 season, Kerrigan became the first member of the Redskins since at least 1970 to open a career with 100 consecutive regular season starts.

The Muncie, Ind. native is only the fifth player in NFL history to open a career with at least 7.5 sacks in each of his first seven seasons, joining Jared Allen, Derrick Thomas, DeMarcus Ware and Reggie White. He also became only the fifth member of the Redskins to post multiple 10-sack seasons since 1982 (Dexter Manley, 4; Charles Mann, 4; Andre Carter, 2; Brian Orakpo, 2). He's also displayed aptitude with the ball in hands, as he has returned all three of his career interceptions for touchdowns, joining Julius Peppers and Pro Football Hall of Famer Jason Taylor as the only players in league history with 60+ sacks and three or more interception return touchdowns.

Kerrigan's impact on the Redskins has transcended football, as he was honored with the team's Walter Payton Man of the Year award in 2015. In addition to participating in numerous events through the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation, Kerrigan welcomed 185 guests to the Grand Hyatt Washington in 2015 for his third Celebrity Waiter Night, raising more than $100,000 for his Blitz for the Better Foundation, which provides support to seriously ill, special needs and physically challenged children throughout the Greater Washington D.C. area.

Kerrigan finished the 2018 season with 13 sacks, tied for the seventh best mark in the league. He passed Charles Mann for second on the Redskins all-time sack list after the team's Week 15 win over the Jacksonville Jaguars and became the third Redskin in franchise history to register 10-plus sacks in four or more seasons, joining Dexter Manley and Charles Mann.

QUINTON DUNBAR

Cornerback Quinton Dunbar first stepped into Redskins Park as an undrafted rookie wide receiver out of Florida in 2015. After spending training camp with the team, the staff decided to move him to corner after seeing how successful he was at blocking flyers in punt drills. Nicknamed "Dunny," the Miami native is now thriving at the position. With the team since 2017, Defensive Coordinator Greg Manusky has been impressed how much the 6-foot-2 corner has grown as a player.

"Dunny's been playing really well, I'm excited about him. Last couple weeks since he's been back, he's been making plays and he understands the game now," Manusky said. "A couple of years ago he was a wide receiver initially coming in and now from a DB's perspective, it's unbelievable how a guy can grow into a system and have success."

Through eight weeks in 2019, Dunbar is off to a career season with three interceptions [career high], five passes defensed and 25 tackles. He is one of seven corners to have at least three interceptions and five passes defensed this season.

Dunbar started to become a reliable option for the team in the 2017 season, playing in 15 games [four starts] with an interception and eight passes defensed. His play earned him a contract extension through 2020 as Dunbar established himself as a mainstay in the Redskins secondary. An injury held Dunbar back in 2018, limiting him to only seven games with six starts. Still, Dunbar picked off two passes and record a career-best nine passes defensed.

Dunbar's play is gaining attention across the league from players, coaches and media. Pro Football Focus named him to their Midseason NFL All-Pro Team with a position-high grade of 91.3 through the first eight weeks of the season. He has at least one pass break up in four of his six games played this season and has only given up 203 yards in coverage.

After missing two games, Dunbar bounced back with his first career multi-interception game in Week 4 against the Giants. It's known that he can make plays in coverage, but Dunbar impressed Interim Head Coach Bill Callahan with his overall play in Week 6 at Miami.

"A guy that can come up and make two plays behind the line of scrimmage for loss. He was relentless versus their screens ... and the play he made on the slant on the pick, really great anticipation, awareness, instinct, intuitiveness. He showed all those traits, but by and large he made plays not only in the backend against the passing game, but in the running game, in the screen game, the things that he prevented ... that was really impressive," Callahan said.

"He's been making plays and he understands the game now. A couple of years ago he was a wide receiver initially coming in and now from a DB's perspective, it's unbelievable how a guy can grow into a system and have success."

CLIMBING THE RECORD BOOK

Dustin Hopkins was one of the most reliable kickers in 2018. Hopkins was 26-for-29 from field goal range this season and finished top 10 in the NFL in field goal percentage and made 50+ yard field goals. His 56-yard kick against the Carolina Panthers in Week 6 was tied for the eighth longest made field goal in 2018.

*Minimum of 5 attempts

The Redskins surprised many in Week 2 of the 2015 season when they elected to move on from kicker Kai Forbath, who exited as the franchise leader in field goal percentage among players with at least 50 attempts, in favor of signing kicker Dustin Hopkins.

After a solid debut in 2015, Hopkins went 34-for-42 on field goal attempts in 2016, breaking Mark Moseley's record [33 in 1983] for the most field goals in a single season in team history. In Week 3 that year, he tied a team record with five field goals in a 5-for-5 performance in a victory as part of an NFC Special Teams Player of the Week and Player of the Month performance.

5t. Chip Lohmiller [1990]	30/40	75.0	131
5t. Chip Lohmiller [1992]	30/40	75.0	120

Now in his fifth season with the Redskins, Hopkins already ranks third in franchise history in career field goals made.

Beyond Hopkins' ability to boot the ball through the uprights, his ability to get it to stop and turn on a dime after 10 yards was vital to a Redskins' victory against Tampa Bay in Week 7 of the 2015 season. Hopkins delivered a perfect onside kick to start the second half of that game, ending a league-wide 0-for-24 skid on onside kick attempts to start the 2015 season. The onside kick helped jumpstart the Redskins en route to recording the largest comeback victory in franchise history.

It was only the fourth successful onside kick by the Redskins since 2000 and ended a streak of 18 unsuccessful onside kick attempts by the Redskins over the previous nine seasons.

In the Redskins Week 6 matchup against Carolina, the Redskins trusted Hopkins with a 56-yard attempt instead of attempting to pin the Panthers deep in their own territory. The risk paid off as Hopkins connected on the kick, marking a new career high and tying him with Chip Lohmiller for the third-longest field goal made in franchise history.

TRESS WAY

The Redskins spent the majority of the 2014 offseason evaluating a punting battle between newcomers Robert Malone and Blake Clingan, but the race received a darkhorse candidate when the team claimed Tress Way off waivers from Chicago on Aug. 20 that year. Way was given 10 days to stake a claim to the punting job.

Way accomplished the feat and has since posted historically- relevant numbers, earned the special teams captaincy in 2015 and been rewarded with a multi-year contract extension in 2016.

REDSKINS TO LEAD NFL IN PUNTING SINCE 1939:

Player	Season	Avg.
Tress Way	2014	47.5
Sam Baker	1958	45.4
Sammy Baugh	1945	43.3
Sammy Baugh	1943	45.9
Sammy Baugh	1942	48.2
Sammy Baugh	1941	48.7
Sammy Baugh	1940	51.4

In 2014, Way's punting numbers rewarded the coaching staff's faith. Way averaged 47.5 yards per punt, the highest by a Redskins player since World War II. He finished the season averaging 47.5 yards per punt to rank fourth in team history, trailing only Sammy Baugh's full-season NFL record [51.4 yards per punt in 1940] and Baugh's 1941 and 1942 campaigns [48.7 and 48.2]. Way became the first member of the Redskins to lead the NFL in punting for a season since Sam Baker in 1958 [45.4].

Throughout his career, Way has waged his field position war by dropping punts inside the 20 with regularity. In the Redskins Week 7 matchup against Dallas, Way pinned a single game career-high five punts inside the 20-yard line and was a key factor in the team's, 20-17, victory at FedExField. Way broke his previous single season record of punts inside the 20 with his mark of 41 this season. His previous high was 33 punts pinned inside the 20-yard line in 2017.

Way pinned four punts inside the 20-yard line in Week 2 of the 2019 season against Dallas and in doing so passed Matt Turk [134] for the franchise record in punts inside the 20. Way currently has 137 total punts inside the 20 [since the statistic began being tracked in 1976].

PINNING THEM DEEP

Way has picked up right where he left off from 2018. The six-year pro is top 10 in the league in punts inside the 20-yard line with 14. Way has dropped four punts inside the 20 in two games this season [9/15 Dal, 10/6 NE], tying the second most in his career. He has at least one punt inside the 20-yard line in eight of the 10 games this season.

Bill Callahan enters his fifth season with the Redskins in 2019 after initially joining the organization as the team's offensive line coach on January 15, 2015. The team added Assistant Head Coach to his title prior to the 2017 season.

Callahan is entering his 21st NFL season in 2019 as part of a career that includes head coaching stints at both the pro and collegiate levels as well as the 2002 AFC Championship with the Oakland Raiders. Entering 2019, Callahan has been a member of an offensive staff that finished in the Top 5 in the NFL in rushing or passing 11 times, including a No. 1 overall finish in rushing twice [2000, 2009] and passing once [2002]. Callahan has had 12 offensive linemen combine for 28 Pro Bowl selections during his career and has guided his units in 19 career postseason contests at the NFL level.

In 2018, Callahan was instrumental in guiding a unit that played it's best football late in games despite losing four-of-five Week 1 starters for extended periods of time during the season. The Redskins finished the season second in the NFL in average yards per carry in the fourth quarter with a mark of 4.95. The team also finished fifth in the league in fourth quarter rushing yards and average rushing yards in the fourth quarter with 554 yards and a 34.6 average, respectively. The offensive line play also aided running back Adrian Peterson in becoming the first Redskins running back to rush for 1,000-plus yards in a single season since 2014. Tackle Trent Williams was also selected to his fourth-consecutive Pro Bowl. Williams has been a Pro Bowler in each of the four seasons that he has played under Callahan.

In 2017, Callahan's tutelage was paramount in helping the offense overcome a season-long rash of injuries and still average nearly 325 yards per game. The Redskins used a total of 36 unique groups of offensive linemen [including seven different combinations of six-lineman groupings], as well as eight different starting lineups along the offensive line. In total, Callahan coached 28 different offensive linemen during the 2017 calendar year, including players on the offseason roster and on the practice squad. Among the newcomers Callahan developed were rookies Chase Roullier and Tyler Catalina, the former of whom blossomed from a sixth-round pick into a seven-game starter at center and the latter of whom performed at multiple positions after making the team as a college free agent.

Members of Callahan's 2017 unit were once again honored for their excellence, as guard Brandon Scherff earned his second Pro Bowl selection and tackle Trent Williams earned his sixth consecutive Pro Bowl nod despite battling a year-long knee injury. Together, Scherff and Williams became the first Redskins offensive line duo collectively named to the Pro Bowl in consecutive seasons since the duo of Russ Grimm and Joe Jacoby earned four straight selections following the 1983-86 seasons.

In the team's first two seasons under Callahan from 2015-16, the Redskins allowed 50 total sacks after allowing 58 sacks in the 2014 season alone. In 2016, powered in part by Callahan's offensive line, the Redskins set single-season team records in yards per game [403.4], yards per play [6.40], net passing yards [4,758], completions [407], passing first downs [226] and 500-yard games [three]. The blocking and protection afforded by the unit allowed eight different Redskins players to finish the season with at least 500 yards from scrimmage, tying the 2011 New Orleans Saints for the most in a single season in NFL history.

The Redskins allowed 23 sacks in 2016, fourth-fewest in the NFL and tied for the seventh-fewest in team history since the league adopted sacks as an official statistic in 1982. The 2016 season also resulted in the fifth consecutive Pro Bowl selection for tackle Trent Williams and the first career Pro Bowl nod for guard Brandon Scherff. The dual selections marked the first time the Redskins had multiple offensive linemen selected to the Pro Bowl in the same season since 1991 [tackle Jim Lachey and guard Mark Schlereth].

In his first year in Washington in the team's NFC East title-winning campaign in 2015, Callahan was frequently credited for the largest year-over-year decline in sacks allowed in team history. A year after allowing 58 sacks in 2014, the Redskins held opponents to 27 sacks in Callahan's first year in 2015. The 31-sack turnaround was the largest in team history since the NFL began recognizing sacks as an official statistic in 1982, surpassing the 30-sack decrease between the 1998-99 seasons. The performance of the line as a unit helped garner Pro Bowl honors for Williams and PFWA All-Rookie honors for Scherff.

Prior to joining the Redskins, Callahan served as offensive coordinator/offensive line coach for the Dallas Cowboys from 2012-14 and helped guide the franchise to its first NFC East title since 2009 in his final season. In 2014, the Cowboys finished second in the NFL in rushing [147.1] with running back DeMarco Murray leading the league in rushing and setting a Dallas franchise record with 1,845 yards. Callahan had two offensive linemen named to The Associated Press' 2014 All-Pro team [tackle Tyron Smith and guard Zack Martin] and had another [center Travis Frederick] selected with Smith and Martin to the Pro Bowl.

Callahan served as assistant head coach/offensive line coach of the New York Jets from 2008-11. During his four-year tenure with the Jets, the offense ranked second in the NFL in rushing yards per game [137.9] across those four seasons and appeared in two consecutive AFC Championship games [2009-10]. In his four seasons, Callahan coached three offensive linemen to nine Pro Bowl appearances [Nick Mangold, 4; D'Brickashaw Ferguson, 3; and Alan Faneca, 2] and helped Mangold earn AP All-Pro honors in the 2009-10 seasons.

Prior to his time in New York, Callahan served as head coach at the University of Nebraska from 2004-07, leading the Cornhuskers to a Big 12 Conference Championship Game appearance in 2006 and two bowl invitations in his four seasons.

Callahan spent six seasons with the Oakland Raiders from 1998-2003, serving as offensive coordinator for four years before becoming the 13th head coach in Raiders history from 2001-02. In 2002, Oakland's offense set a team record for total offense with an NFL-best 6,237 yards and led the NFL in passing yards [4,689] en route to an appearance in Super Bowl XXXVII. He became the fourth rookie head coach in NFL history to earn a Super Bowl berth.

Before joining the Raiders, Callahan coached the offensive line for the Philadelphia Eagles from 1995-97. His unit helped the Eagles rank second in the NFC in passing, fifth in rushing and third in total offense in 1997. Prior to joining the Eagles, Callahan accrued 15 seasons of coaching experience in various capacities at Illinois [1980-86], Northern Arizona [1987-88], Southern Illinois [1989] and Wisconsin [1990-94].

Callahan started at quarterback for three seasons [1975-

77] at Illinois Benedictine [Iisle, Ill.] where he earned honorable-mention All-America honors in 1976 and 1977 and graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1978. In 2004, he was inducted into the Benedictine University Athletics Hall of Fame.

Callahan was born in Chicago, where he attended Mendel Catholic H.S. He and his wife, Valerie, have four children: daughters Cathryn and Jaclyn, and sons Brian and Daniel. His son, Brian, now serves as the offensive coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals.

2013-15	Special Teams Coordinator	Tennessee Titans
2016-18	Special Teams Coordinator	Tampa Bay Buccaneers
2019-Pres.	Special Teams Coordinator	Washington Redskins

Nate Kaczor [pronounced Kat-sir] enters his first season as special teams coordinator with the Washington Redskins in 2019. He will be entering his 12th NFL season and has held positions with the Jacksonville Jaguars, Tennessee Titans and Tampa Bay Buccaneers during his NFL career.

During Kaczor's three seasons with Tampa Bay, the Buccaneers were one of the top punt coverage units in the NFL, allowing only 6.6 yards per return, the fourth-lowest mark in the league during that span.

In 2018, Tampa Bay allowed only 21.0 yards per kickoff return, which was the sixth lowest in the NFL despite allowing 30-plus total kickoff returns.

In 2017, the Buccaneers had three blocked kicks [one blocked field goals and two blocked extra points], tied for the third-most in the NFL. Tampa Bay led the league in special teams takeaways, with four [three fumble recoveries on punt coverage, one on kickoff coverage]. All four of Tampa Bay's special teams takeaways helped lead to touchdowns – two were returned for touchdowns, while the other two set up the offense with a short field. The Buccaneers' punt return unit also averaged 9.6 yards per return, the sixth-highest mark in the NFL.

Punter Bryan Anger was a standout during Kaczor's tenure with the Buccaneers. In his first year with the team, Anger set Buccaneers records for both punts inside the 20 [37] and net punting average [42.7], with both of those ranking in the top five in the NFL in 2016. In the three seasons that Anger spent under Kaczor's tutelage, Anger ranked top 15 in the league in punts inside the 20 and net average while only recording 14 touchbacks.

Kaczor came to Tampa Bay having spent the previous four seasons with the Tennessee Titans, the final three as the teams' special teams coordinator [2013-15] after being hired as the assistant offensive line coach in his first season [2012]. In 2015, the Titans tied for the NFL lead in special teams takeaways, while in 2013 Kaczor's unit ranked in third in the league in opponent punt return average and eighth in kickoff return average.

In three seasons under Kaczor, Titans punter Brett Kern tied for the third-most punts inside the 20 [94] in the NFL. In 2015, despite punting 88 times, Kern saw only one touchback on the year. In 2014, Kern posted a net average of 40.8, a career best and a Titans franchise record. Kaczor also worked with kicker Ryan Succop, who set a career high in field goal percentage in 2015 [87.5], surpassing the career best he had established the season before.

Kaczor entered the NFL as an assistant special teams coach with the Jacksonville Jaguars, working there from 2008-11. During those four years, Jacksonville had one of the league's top special teams coverage units, allowing the lowest punt return average in the NFL [6.5 avg.] and the eighth-lowest kickoff return average [21.8 avg.]. In each of Kaczor's final two seasons, Montell Owens earned Pro Bowl recognition as a special teams player.

Prior to joining the NFL, Kaczor spent 17 years coaching in college, the final two working as co-offensive coordinator [2007] and tight ends coach [2006] at Louisiana-Monroe. In his only season as co-offensive coordinator, the team ranked second in the Sun Belt Conference in rushing offense and averaged its most points scored since 1993. Before his time at Louisiana-Monroe, Kaczor spent two seasons [2004-05] as the co-offensive coordinator/tight ends coach at Idaho and four seasons as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Nebraska-Kearney [2000-03]. Kaczor began his coaching career as an offensive assistant at his alma mater, Utah State, working as an offensive assistant for nine seasons [1991-99], helping the team win three conference championships.

A center at Utah State, Kaczor was a team captain, who earned all-conference honors in 1989. A native of Scott City, Kansas, he and his wife, Angie, have two children, Kaylee and Micah.

GREG MANUSKY

2011	Defensive Coordinator	San Diego Chargers
2012-15	Defensive Coordinator	Indianapolis Colts
2016	Outside Linebackers Coach	Washington Redskins
2017-Pres.	Defensive Coordinator	Washington Redskins

Greg Manusky is entering his eighth combined season as a player or coach with the Redskins in 2019 after returning to the organization as the team's outside linebackers coach on January 22, 2016. He was named the team's defensive coordinator on January 23, 2017.

Manusky returned to the Redskins in 2016 with 27 previous combined seasons of NFL experience, including 15 as a coach and 12 as a player. He entered the coaching ranks full-time with the Redskins in 2001 as the team's linebackers coach. During his 18 seasons as an NFL coach entering 2018, 12 different players have earned a total of 20 Pro Bowl selections under his tutelage.

In 2018, Manusky's unit was tied for 10th in the league in total turnovers. The team's 18 forced fumbles were tied with the Buffalo Bills for the fourth most in the NFL and their 15 interceptions were tied for the ninth-best mark in the league. The unit was also one of the best at pressuring opposing quarterbacks in 2018 and finished the season seventh in the NFL in sacks. The team was led by Linebacker Ryan Kerrigan who finished the season with 13 sacks which was tied for the seventh most in the league. The 13 sacks was the second most in a single season in Kerrigan's career and earned him his third-consecutive Pro Bowl selection. Kerrigan has been named a Pro Bowler in all three seasons that Manusky has been on the defensive staff.

In his first season as Washington's defensive coordinator in 2017, Manusky's defense produced the team's strongest season against the pass in nearly a decade. The unit ranked third in the NFL in completion percentage allowed (57.6 percent), the team's best ranking since leading the NFL in the category in 2005 (54.4), while finishing ninth in passing yards allowed per game (213.8, the team's lowest since 2009) and 10th in opponent passer rating (81.0, lowest since 2008). The group also posted 42 sacks, the franchise's most since 2000, led by Kerrigan, who earned his third Pro Bowl selection after leading Washington with 13.0 sacks.

The list of key contributors to the unit's performance under Manusky in 2017 spanned all positions and experience levels. Unrestricted free agent addition Zach Brown led the NFL in tackles through 15 weeks before missing the final three games of the season. Fellow free agent signing safety D.J. Swearinger earned immediate captaincy status before ever playing a snap for Washington and recorded a career-high four interceptions, tying for the team lead with cornerback Kendall Fuller, who emerged as one of the league's top slot corners in his second NFL season. Second-year Defensive Tackle Matt Ioannidis made a similar second-year jump, posting 4.5 sacks, while first-round pick Jonathan Allen was impressive despite being limited by injury to only five contests.

As outside linebackers coach in 2016, Manusky helped guide Kerrigan to his second career Pro Bowl selection. Kerrigan posted 11.0 sacks, becoming only the fifth player in team history to record multiple 10-sack seasons. Manusky's contributions were also key to Trent Murphy's breakout campaign in 2016, a year in which the third-year pro recorded 9.0 sacks after totaling 6.0 across his first two NFL seasons in 2014-15. Manusky's duo became the first pair to record at least nine sacks each in a single season for the Redskins since Andre Carter and Brian Orakpo in 2009.

Prior to his second coaching stint in Washington, Manusky served nine seasons as the defensive coordinator of the Indianapolis Colts (2012-15), San Diego Chargers (2011) and San Francisco 49ers (2007-10). The Colts won at least eight games in all four of Manusky's seasons in Indianapolis, earning three postseason berths including an AFC Championship appearance in 2014. The Colts recorded 10 interception returns for touchdowns during Manusky's four-year tenure, tied for second most in the AFC and tied for fifth most in the NFL in that time frame.

In 2014, Manusky guided a defense that helped record the team's third straight 11-5 regular season record and second consecutive AFC South Division Championship. From Weeks 4 through 7, the Colts only allowed one third down conversion, marking the longest such streak by an NFL team since 1970. Safety Mike Adams, cornerback Vontae Davis and linebacker D'Qwell Jackson comprised the three defensive players to earn their first career Pro Bowl selection during the year.

Manusky spent the 2011 campaign as the defensive coordinator of the San Diego Chargers. Under his direction, the defense allowed an average of 224.4 net passing yards per game, and safety Eric Weddle tied for the NFL lead with seven interceptions and earned a trip to the 2012 Pro Bowl. Prior to joining the Chargers, Manusky spent four seasons (2007-10) as defensive coordinator of the San Francisco 49ers. His 2009 unit did not allow a touchdown in five separate games while forcing an NFL-best 21 fumbles, allowing just 3.6 yards per rush and recording 44.0 sacks.

Manusky's first tenure with the Chargers lasted four seasons (2002-06), during which time he served as the linebackers coach. In the 2006 campaign, San Diego linebackers accounted for 42.5 of the team's 61.0 regular season sacks. That season, linebacker Shawne Merriman tied the Chargers' franchise record with 17.0 sacks, becoming the first Charger to lead the league in sacks.

Manusky started his coaching career in 2000, working as a volunteer linebackers and special teams coach with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers during training camp. He then joined the Redskins staff in 2001 as the team's linebackers coach, helping guide LaVar Arrington to his first career Pro Bowl selection.

Throughout his career, Manusky has coached an impressive list of Pro Bowl players, including Jackson, Davis, Adams and defensive end Robert Mathis with the Colts; Weddle, linebackers Shawne Merriman, Junior Seau and Donnie Edwards with the Chargers; defensive end Justin Smith and linebackers Patrick Willis with the 49ers and LaVar Arrington with the Redskins.

Manusky was a linebacker and special teams standout during his 12-year NFL playing career in Washington, Minnesota and Kansas City, recording a stretch in which he participated in 113 consecutive games. Manusky earned All-Madden Team honors in 1991 and retired from the NFL in 2000.

A native of Wyoming, Pa., Manusky attended Dallas (Pa.) H.S. before moving on to Colgate University, where he was a four-year letterman and an All-Colonial League selection. As a senior in 1987, Manusky was named the Colonial League's Defensive Player of the Year. He graduated with degrees in education and geology.

Manusky and his wife, Laurie, have two sons, Colton and Jake, and two daughters, Logan and Chandler. Logan is a collegiate volleyball player at College of Charleston.

2018	Passing Game Coord.	Washington Redskins
2019	Offensive Coordinator	Washington Redskins

Kevin O'Connell enters his third season with the Redskins and his first season in the role of offensive coordinator. He was the passing game coordinator and guided the quarterbacks in 2018 after joining the team on January 23, 2017. O'Connell's first position with Washington was in the role of quarterbacks coach in the 2017 season.

In 2018, O'Connell spent his first season as the team's passing game coordinator. He spent time working with five different quarterbacks throughout the season and was a major factor in preparing the four different starting quarterbacks that the team utilized which was a first in franchise history in the Super Bowl Era.

O'Connell's input in the offensive gameplan and play calling was on display in 2018 as the Redskins offense registered 30 10-plus play drives in 2018, which was tied for the ninth-best mark in the NFL.

O'Connell played a key role in Quarterback Alex Smith's first season in the Washington offense. Prior to his season-ending injury, Smith was 205-for-328 with 2,180 passing yards and 10 touchdowns and had the team at a 6-3 mark and a 2-0 mark in the NFC East. He was also instrumental in implementing aspects of the run-pass option into the Redskins 2018 offense. Through Week 11, Smith ranked No. 10 among quarterbacks in rushing yards with 168 yards on 41 attempts. The Redskins were also ranked No. 7 in the NFL in third-and-one conversions with a 75 percent conversion rate. Smith also ranked No. 4 in the NFL in interception percentage from Week 1 to Week 11 with a mark of 1.5 percent and a total of five interceptions thrown on 328 attempts.

From Week 12 to Week 17 of the 2018 season, O'Connell worked with three different starting quarterbacks. Quarterback Colt McCoy appeared in three games with two starts and was 34-for-54 with 372 passing yards and three touchdowns. McCoy also rushed for 6.3 yards per attempt in the three games that he appeared in. After McCoy suffered a season-ending injury in Week 13, Quarterback Mark Sanchez appeared in two games with one start before being relieved by Quarterback Josh Johnson.

O'Connell played a key role in installing a package of plays to fit Johnson's playing style and comfort within the offense and was a big factor in Johnson's late season success. Johnson finished the season 52-for-91 with 590 yards and three touchdowns and also rushed for 120 yards on 23 attempts. Johnson started his first career game in Week 15 against the Jacksonville Jaguars and earned his first ever win as a starting quarterback in his 10th professional season. He also posted a single game career high passer rating of 104.9 against the New York Giants in Week 14 and posted his second best single game passer rating against the Jacksonville Jaguars in Week 15 with a 93.9 mark. The running aspect of the offense was also on display as Johnson became the first Redskins quarterback since Kirk Cousins in 2017 to rush and throw for a touchdown in a single game.

In his first season in Washington in 2017, O'Connell helped Cousins complete 347-of-540 passes [64.3 percent] for 4,093 yards with 27 touchdowns and 13 interceptions for a passer rating of 93.9. Under O'Connell's guidance, Cousins recorded the fifth 4,000-yard passing season in team history and became the first player in team history and only the 11th player in NFL history to record a streak of at least three consecutive 4,000-yard passing seasons, joining Drew Brees, Peyton Manning, Matt Ryan, Matthew Stafford, Tom Brady, Philip Rivers, Dan Fouts, Trent Green, Eli Manning and Dan Marino.

O'Connell joined the Redskins after spending the 2016 season overseeing special projects for the San Francisco 49ers. A year earlier in 2015, O'Connell served as quarterbacks coach for the Cleveland Browns. There he worked with quarterback Josh McCown, who became the first player in Browns franchise history to throw for 300-or-more yards in three consecutive games, as he eclipsed the mark in each game from Week 3 to Week 5 that season. Under O'Connell, McCown also set a career high and Browns single-game record with 457 passing yards at Baltimore.

Originally a third-round pick [94th overall] by the New England Patriots in the 2008 NFL Draft, O'Connell spent time with the Patriots, Lions, Jets, Dolphins and Chargers during his five-year playing career [2008-12].

A four-year team captain at San Diego State [2004-07], O'Connell appeared in 40 games and finished his collegiate career ranked third in school history in completions [664], fourth in passing yards [7,689] and fifth in passing touchdowns [46]. He also finished his career holding school records for career rushing yards by a quarterback [1,312], career rushing touchdowns by a quarterback [19] and single-season rushing touchdowns by a quarterback [11]. In 2007, O'Connell became the first player in San Diego State history to lead the team in both passing [3,063] and rushing yards [408] in the same season. He earned his bachelor's degree in political science in 2007.

Born in Knoxville, Tenn., O'Connell attended La Costa Canyon H.S. in Carlsbad, Calif. He and his wife, Leah, have two sons, Kaden and Kolten, and a daughter, Quinn.

Matt Cavanaugh enters his fifth season with the Redskins and his first as the team's senior offensive assistant in 2019 after spending the last two seasons as the team's offensive coordinator.

Cavanaugh boasts 26 seasons of previous coaching experience across the professional and collegiate levels. His NFL background also includes 14 combined seasons as a quarterback for the New England Patriots, San Francisco 49ers, Philadelphia Eagles and New York Giants from 1978-91.

Under Cavanaugh's guidance, Redskins quarterback Kirk Cousins posted the first stretch of three consecutive 4,000-yard seasons in team history in 2015-17 and became the first quarterback in NFL history to record at least 4,000 passing yards and four rushing touchdowns in three consecutive seasons.

In 2018, Cavanaugh played a big factor in the implementation and execution of the offensive gameplan. Along with then-Passing Game Coordinator Kevin O'Connell, Cavanaugh played a big role in preparing the four different starting quarterbacks that the Redskins used throughout the course of the season. In 2018 the Redskins offense was No. 11 in the NFL in 3rd-and-short conversions and was No. 7 in the league in 3rd-and-1 conversions. The team also ranked in the top 10 in the league in 10-plus play drives despite suffering a myriad of injuries on the offensive line and at the quarterback position.

In his first season as Washington's offensive coordinator in 2017, Cavanaugh helped the offense average nearly 325 yards per game despite enduring a rash of injuries that significantly impacted the offensive line and a number of key playmakers. The Redskins used 32 different players on offense, including eight different running backs [tied with Arizona for the most in the NFL] and 36 unique groups of offensive linemen [including seven different combinations of six-lineman groupings]. The game plans and play-calling scripts devised by Cavanaugh and the coaching staff helped the Redskins score points on their opening possession nine times in 2017, the most opening-drive scores by the Redskins in a single season in records dating back to 1999.

In 2016, Cavanaugh's tutelage of Cousins was critical to a record-setting season for both the team as a whole and for the then-fifth-year quarterback. The Redskins set single-season team records in yards per game [403.4], yards per play [6.40], net passing yards [4,758], completions [407], passing first downs [226] and 500-yard games [three]. Meanwhile, Cousins finished the year with single-season team records in attempts [606], completions [406] and passing yards [4,917] and matched his team record for 300-yard passing games [seven]. Cousins' 4,917 passing yards ranked third in the NFL in 2016 and were the 15th-most in a season in NFL history.

Cavanaugh made an immediate impact in his first season in Washington in 2015, helping guide Cousins to single-season team records in attempts [543], completions [379], passing yards [4,166] and 300-yard passing games [seven] despite not being named the starter until midway through the preseason. Cavanaugh's coaching helped Cousins post an interception percentage of 2.0, the second-lowest by a Redskins quarterback with at least 400 attempts in a season all-time. After the season, quarterback Colt McCoy called Cavanaugh the team's "MVP" for his work with Cousins in 2015.

Prior to joining the Redskins, Cavanaugh served as quarterbacks coach of the Chicago Bears from 2013-14. In 2013, under Cavanaugh's tutelage, the Bears' quarterbacks rewrote the franchise single-season record books setting team records in passer rating [96.9], passing yards [4,450], passing touchdowns [32] and completion percentage [64.4]. It was his second stint in Chicago after having served as the team's offensive coordinator from 1997-98.

Cavanaugh spent four seasons working with quarterbacks for the New York Jets from 2009-12. During those four seasons, the Jets made two AFC Championship game appearances.

Cavanaugh joined the Jets after four seasons as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at his alma mater, the University of Pittsburgh, from 2005-08. It was his second stint at Pitt after making his coaching debut in 1993 working with the Panthers' tight ends. As offensive coordinator, Cavanaugh helped tutor future NFL running backs LeSean McCoy and LaRod Stephens-Howling.

Cavanaugh served as the Baltimore Ravens' offensive coordinator from 1999-2004, a tenure that included the franchise's 34-7 Super Bowl XXXV victory in 2000. During that season, the Ravens ground game churned out a franchise-record 2,199 yards, fifth most in the NFL.

Prior to his first tenure in Chicago from 1997-98, Cavanaugh served as quarterbacks coach for the San Francisco 49ers in 1996, helping Steve Young lead the NFL in passer rating [97.2] and completion percentage [67.7]. He got his first taste of NFL coaching in 1994, working as the quarterbacks coach of the Arizona Cardinals, a position he held for two years.

Cavanaugh won two Super Bowl titles as a backup quarterback with the New York Giants [Super Bowl XXV] and the 49ers [Super Bowl XIX]. He was a second-round selection [50th overall] of the Patriots in 1978 NFL Draft, spending five seasons with New England [1978-82] before stints with the 49ers [1983-85], Eagles [1986-89] and Giants [1990-91]. He appeared in 112 career contests with 19 starts, completing 305-of-579 passes for 4,332 yards and 28 touchdowns.

As a collegiate quarterback, Cavanaugh guided Pitt to the 1976 National Championship and was named the Sugar Bowl MVP after a 27-3 victory over Georgia. He earned All-America honors as a senior in 1977. Cavanaugh earned his bachelor's degree from Pitt in administration of justice.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Cavanaugh attended Chaney H.S. He is married to his wife, Maria, and has three children: Amy, Andrew and Mollie.

2019	Tight Ends Coach	Washington Redskins

Entering his 25th year in the coaching profession and his eighth in the NFL, Brian Angelichio enters his first year with the Washington Redskins in 2019 as the team's tight ends coach.

Under Angelichio's guidance in 2018, Packers tight end Jimmy Graham finished the season with 55 receptions for 636 yards, which were both the ninth highest marks among tight ends in the league. Graham and Packers rookie tight end Robert Tonyan were both tied with New York Giants tight end Evan Engram for the eighth longest reception among tight ends in 2018, each hauling in 54-yard receptions. Tonyan's 54-yard reception was the third highest by a rookie tight end in the league last season.

In 2017, Angelichio's tight-end group helped the Packers rank No. 5 in the NFL in rushing yards per carry [4.47 avg.]. In two seasons with the Packers, his tight ends have helped the offense rank No. 4 in the league over that span with an average of 4.51 yards per carry.

In his first season with the Packers, Angelichio [anjuhLEEK-o] guided a group that helped the team finish No. 4 in the NFL in points per game [27.0]. After missing six games due to an ankle injury, free agent Jared Cook returned in Week 11 and recorded 24 receptions for 324 yards [13.5 avg.] and a TD in the final six regular-season games, with 17 of those catches going for first downs. His receiving yardage total in Weeks 11-17 ranked No. 8 among NFL tight ends, and his four catches of 25-plus yards were tied for No. 3 over that span. In the playoffs, Cook was tied for the team lead with 18 receptions for 229 yards [12.7 avg.] and two TDs. His reception and receiving-yardage totals were the best by a Green Bay TE in a single postseason, topping the previous highs posted by TE Keith Jackson in 1995 [12 catches for 223 yards].

In 2015 with the Browns, Angelichio helped develop veteran Gary Barnidge, who had registered 44 catches for 603 yards [13.7 avg.] and three TDs in his first seven seasons in the league. Under Angelichio's direction in 2015, Barnidge posted career highs in every category, hauling in 79 catches for 1,043 yards [13.2 avg.] and nine TDs. Barnidge tied Ozzie Newsome [1979] for the most TD catches by a TE in Browns history, and his yardage total ranked No. 2 by a TE in team annals behind only Kellen Winslow [1,106 in 2007]. Among NFL tight ends, Barnidge ranked third in the league in 2015 in receptions and yards per catch, and fourth in yards and TD catches on his way to becoming just the fifth TE in franchise history to be selected to the Pro Bowl.

Under Angelichio's guidance in 2014, Cleveland's tight end group combined for 54 receptions for 822 yards [15.2 avg.] and three TDs, and helped open up the run game as the Browns finished fourth in the NFL in rushing TDs with 17. Jordan Cameron led all NFL tight ends with an average of 17.7 yards per reception [min. 20 rec.] and recorded the longest play by an NFL tight end since 2009, posting an 81-yard TD catch at Carolina on Dec. 21.

Angelichio began his NFL career with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, where he spent two seasons [2012-13] coaching tight ends. In 2013, he tutored Tim Wright, who set franchise rookie records for the most receptions [54], receiving yards [571] and receiving TDs [five] by a tight end. His yardage total was tied for the most by an undrafted rookie tight end in NFL history.

Prior to Tampa Bay, Angelichio coached the tight ends at Rutgers [2011], where he worked with D.C. Jefferson, who was selected by Arizona in the seventh round of the 2013 NFL Draft and appeared in four games for the Cardinals that season.

Angelichio spent five seasons at the University of Pittsburgh, serving as offensive assistant/tight ends coach for one season [2006] and tight ends coach for four seasons [2007-10]. He coached future NFL draft choices Dorin Dickerson [Houston Texans, seventh round, 2010], a first team All-American and John Mackey Award finalist, and Nate Byham [49ers, sixth round, 2010], as well as Darrell Strong, who went on to play for the Oakland Raiders. Angelichio also served as the offensive coordinator during the Panthers' 27-10 victory in the 2011 BBVA Compass Bowl against Kentucky.

Angelichio started his coaching career in 1995 as the secondary coach at SUNY-Brockport and then spent 10 seasons at Ithaca College, where he coached linebackers [1996-97], receivers [1998] and the offensive line [1999] before serving as offensive coordinator/offensive line coach [2000-05]. While with the Bombers, Angelichio tutored seven All-Americans, helping the team advance to the postseason in seven of his 10 years. While in charge of the offense, he led a unit that set or tied 30 team or individual records over his final five seasons.

Angelichio was a three-year starter at outside linebacker [1992-95] at St. Lawrence University in Canton, N.Y., where he earned a bachelor's degree in physical education. He was also team captain and a four-year starter on the baseball team. He received a master's degree from Ithaca College. Born December 27, 1972, in Ilion, N.Y., Angelichio attended Ilion High School, where he lettered all four years in baseball and three years each in basketball and football. As a quarterback and safety, he was part of a team that went undefeated and ranked third in the state as a senior.

MALCOLM BLACKEN
DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

22ND NFL SEASON
13TH WITH REDSKINS

Malcolm Blacken enters his seventh season as Director of Player Development in 2019 after being named to the position by the Redskins on March 13, 2013.

Blacken's hiring served to start his third stint with Washington after having previously served as a strength and conditioning coach for the Redskins on two occasions [1996-2000 and 2010]. In his last season in Washington in 2010, Blacken was responsible for assisting with all aspects of the Redskins strength and conditioning program.

In his current role, Blacken guides the development and education of Redskins players as it pertains to both their personal and professional lives. His guidance covers topics including but not limited to: financial education; healthy and unhealthy relationships; total wellness and mental health; league policies on substance abuse, performance enhancing drugs and personal conduct; social responsibility; social media; decision making; stress and time management; team history and tradition; and the expectations of being a player in the National Football League.

In addition, Blacken works hand-in-hand with the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation and was a principal figure in instituting the team's Rookie Community Club, which annually takes the team's rookies and immediately integrates them into the Washington, D.C. area community through a series of service efforts. He also provides assistance with continuing education and offers guidance for players' academic pursuits.

From 2011-12, Blacken served as Director of Speed, Strength

& Conditioning for the University of Colorado. He worked directly with the football program on a day-to-day basis while overseeing the speed, strength and conditioning needs of all 16 of Colorado's varsity programs.

In between his first two stops in Washington, Blacken spent nine years as the Detroit Lions' strength and conditioning coach from 2001-09. Blacken was an assistant strength coach for the University of Virginia's football program in 1995 and worked with all other sports in the Cavaliers' athletic department as well. For three years [1992-94], Blacken served as the head strength and conditioning coach for George Mason University, where he oversaw the program for all of the university's varsity sports.

Blacken began his coaching career at the University of South Carolina in 1990-91 as the football program's assistant strength and conditioning coach.

Blacken graduated from Virginia Tech in 1989 with bachelor's degrees in art and physical education. He was a Hokies running back from 1984-88 and was a four-time letter winner. While at Virginia Tech, Blacken was a two-time winner of the Super Iron Hokie Award [1987-88], which is given yearly to the football program's strongest player at each position.

Off the field, Blacken is an accomplished artist whose paintings have been displayed across the country. Recently he participated in the 2016 NFLPA Smocks and Jocks art auction in Houston for Super Bowl LI, with proceeds donated to the retired players fund. More about Blacken's art can be accessed by visiting ArtByMalcolm.com.

Blacken currently resides in Ashburn, Va., with his wife, Marcy. The couple has two children, Maya [20] and Bo [18].

2013-14	Defensive Quality Control	San Diego Chargers
2015-16	Defensive Quality Control	Washington Redskins
2017-Pres.	Outside Linebackers Coach	Washington Redskins

Chad Grimm enters his fifth season with the Redskins and his third as the team's outside linebackers coach in 2019 after initially joining the team in a defensive quality control role on January 29, 2015.

In 2018, Grimm continued his work with Redskins Pro Bowl linebacker Ryan Kerrigan. Kerrigan finished the season with 13 sacks for 96.5 yards, 11 tackles for loss and three forced fumbles. Kerrigan finished tied for seventh in the league in overall sacks and finished with the second-most sacks in a single season in his career, tying his 13 sack effort in 2017. Kerrigan has posted 12-plus sacks in back-to-back seasons for the first time in his career in the two seasons under Grimm's tutelage. The 96.5 sack yards was the most in Kerrigan's career in a single season and he was one-of-nine players to record 13-plus sacks and three-plus forced fumbles in the league last season.

In his first season as outside linebacker coach in 2017, Grimm oversaw another stellar campaign by Ryan Kerrigan, who posted 13.0 sacks en route to his third Pro Bowl selection and became the first member of the Redskins to post consecutive campaigns with double-digit sack totals since 1985-86, when both Charles Mann and Dexter Manley accomplished the feat. Meanwhile, Grimm's coaching was integral in a resurgent campaign by third-year linebacker Preston Smith, who matched his career high with 8.0 sacks, including a sack in each of the team's first four games.

Grimm spent his first two seasons in Washington in 2014-15 serving in a defensive quality control capacity while also assisting the team's outside linebackers. In 2015, Grimm helped Smith lead all NFL rookies with 8.0 sacks, and a year later, Grimm and Greg Manusky helped Kerrigan and Trent Murphy become the first pair to record at least nine sacks each in a single season for the Redskins since Andre Carter and Brian Orakpo in 2009.

Prior to joining the Redskins, Grimm spent two years in the same capacity with the San Diego Chargers. Grimm spent his first four NFL seasons with the Arizona Cardinals after entering the league in 2009 as an offensive quality control coach.

Grimm comes from a football pedigree. He is the son of Russ Grimm, a Pro Football Hall of Famer and three-time Super Bowl champion who stands as one of the most decorated players in Redskins history. Russ – a founding member of the franchise's famed "Hogs" – played 11 seasons in Washington from 1981-91 and served in various assistant roles for the team from 1992-2000. His brother, Cody, played at Virginia Tech, was a seventh-round draft pick by Tampa Bay in 2010 and played safety for the Buccaneers from 2010-12.

Grimm played collegiately as a linebacker and special teamer at Virginia Tech from 2003-06. The Fairfax native played both football and lacrosse at Oakton H.S. in Vienna, Va., helping the school reach the state finals in both sports for the first time in school history.

2012	Wide Receivers Coach	Washington Redskins
2013	Wide Receivers Coach	Buffalo Bills
2014-Pres.	Wide Receivers Coach	Washington Redskins

Ike Hilliard is entering his seventh season as the Redskins wide receivers coach in 2019 after returning for his second stint with the team on January 20, 2014.

In 2018, Hilliard played a major role in wide receiver Josh Doctson setting single season career highs in receptions [44] and receiving yards [532]. He also oversaw a season in which Jamison Crowder set a single season high in yards per reception with a mark of 13.4 and he was instrumental in the development of rookie wide receiver Trey Quinn who had success in the limited action he saw due to injury.

Hilliard oversaw a young wide receiver corps in 2017 that helped quarterback Kirk Cousins become the first player in team history to record a third consecutive 4,000-yard passing season. Jamison Crowder led the Redskins in receptions [66] and receiving yards [789],and at age 24 on the final day of the calendar year, became the youngest player to lead the Redskins in receptions since Gary Clark [24] in 1986, according to records provided by Pro Football Reference. Meanwhile, second-year pro Josh Doctson, who had been limited by injury to only two games in his rookie campaign, led the Redskins with six receiving touchdowns, and fourth-year pro Ryan Grant recorded career highs in receptions [45], receiving yards [573] and receiving touchdowns [four].

Hilliard's group played a major role in the Redskins' record-setting offense in 2016, a unit that set single-season team records in yards per game [403.4], yards per play [6.40], net passing yards [4,758], completions [407], passing first downs [226] and 500-yard games [three]. Veteran wideouts Pierre Garçon [1,041] and DeSean Jackson [1,005] both eclipsed the 1,000-yard mark on the season, representing the first time the Redskins featured multiple 1,000-yard receivers since 1999 [Albert Connell and Michael Westbrook]. Meanwhile, in his second season, Crowder took another step as one of the league's most underrated slot receivers, leading the Redskins with seven touchdown receptions while contributing 847 receiving yards on 67 receptions.

During the Redskins' NFC East championship season in 2015, Hilliard coached a group that prominently featured two prolific veterans [Garçon and Jackson] and two young players in their first or second NFL seasons [Crowder and Ryan Grant, respectively]. Garçon posted 72 receptions, the second-highest total of his career, while Jackson recorded 528 receiving yards and four touchdowns despite being limited by injury to nine games. Hilliard's guidance also helped Crowder to a Redskins-rookie-record 59 receptions in 2015.

In his return to Washington in 2014, Hilliard oversaw the incorporation of Jackson into the team's offense after joining the team as a free agent. Jackson led the Redskins with 1,169 receiving yards on 56 receptions, becoming the fifth member of the Redskins to post 1,000 receiving yards in his first season in Washington [Bobby Mitchell in 1962, Henry Ellard in 1994, Laveranues Coles in 2003 and Santana Moss in 2005]. Jackson averaged an NFL-best 20.9 yards per reception and was the first member of the Redskins to finish a season as the NFL leader in yards per reception since Henry Ellard [19.5 in 1996].

Hilliard served as wide receivers coach for the Buffalo Bills in 2013, helping mold a young group that included rookie second-round pick Robert Woods [40 receptions for 587 yards with three touchdowns] and rookie third-round pick Marquise Goodwin [17 receptions for 283 yards with three touchdowns].

In his first stint with the Redskins in 2012, Hilliard guided the team's receivers to the franchise's first division title since 1999. He incorporated free agents Pierre Garçon and Joshua Morgan into the offense, helping Garçon lead the team in receiving yards [633 in only 10 games] and helping Morgan lead the Redskins in receptions [48]. Hilliard also oversaw the resurgence of veteran slot receiver Santana Moss, who caught 41 passes for 573 yards and eight touchdowns, his most since recording nine receiving touchdowns in his first season in Washington in 2005. The group's toughness on the perimeter also helped the offense rush for a league-best 2,709 yards, a franchise record.

In 2011, Hilliard served as the assistant wide receivers coach for the Miami Dolphins. He helped in the development of wide receiver Brandon Marshall, who was selected for his third Pro Bowl and first as a member of the Dolphins. Additionally, Marshall finished third in the AFC in receiving yards with 1,214 and recorded his fifth-consecutive 1,000-plus yard season.

Prior to joining the Dolphins, Hilliard spent two seasons coaching for the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League.

As a player, Hilliard was a first-round selection in the 1997 NFL Draft [No. 7 overall]. He played 12 seasons, eight with the New York Giants [1997-2004] and four with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers [2005-08]. In 161 career games [106 starts], Hilliard caught 546 passes for 6,397 yards and 35 touchdowns.

Hilliard played collegiately at the University of Florida from 1994-96, catching 126 passes for 2,214 yards and 26 touchdowns. He earned first-team All-SEC and All-American honors as a junior. In the final game that season, he recorded seven catches for 150 yards and three touchdowns to help lead the Gators to a 52-20 Sugar Bowl win to secure the school's first national championship.

Hilliard is a native of Patterson, La.

2016	Defensive Coordinator	Cleveland Browns
2019	Defensiv e Backs Coach	Washington Redskins

Ray Horton enters his first season as the Redskins defensive backs coach in 2019 after being named to the position on January 24, 2019.

Horton last served as the Cleveland Browns defensive coordinator in 2016 and has held the role of defensive coordinator with three different teams over the course of six seasons in the NFL. He has coached for 24 seasons in the NFL along with a 10-year playing career as a defensive back for the Cincinnati Bengals and Dallas Cowboys. As a player he made it to the Super Bowl five times and is a three-time Super Bowl champion.

Horton held the role of defensive coordinator with the Tennessee Titans from 2014-15. In 2015, the Titans finished sixth in the NFL in sacks per pass play, seventh in passing yards allowed and eighth in rush average against. In his first season at the helm of the defense in 2014, the Titans registered at least one sack by 18 different defensive players which was a team record and the most by any team that season.

In 2013, Horton was responsible for one of the best turnarounds for a defense in franchise history. After finishing 23rd in the league the previous year, the Browns finished the 2013 season ranked ninth in total defense, marking the team's best finish since the 1994 season. The Browns also finished the season eighth in rushing yards per carry, allowing a mark of 3.9 and also registered 40 sacks which was the most in franchise history since the 2001 campaign.

Horton spent the 2011-12 seasons as the defensive coordinator of the Arizona Cardinals. Horton's defense in 2012 finished the season No. 1 in the NFL in passer rating allowed [71.2] and interception percentage [4.4%]. The unit also ranked second in the NFL in interceptions and third down efficiency, was third in red zone defense and fourth in takeaways. The defense was fifth in the league in overall passing defense and points allowed per drive. In his first season with Arizona, the defense allowed only 34 touchdowns which was their fewest allowed in a single season in franchise history since 1994.

Before becoming a defensive coordinator, Horton spent seven seasons as the defensive backs coach with the Pittsburgh Steelers. During his seven-year stint in Pittsburgh, Horton aided a Steelers defense that ranked in the top 10 in total defense all seven seasons, including leading the NFL in 2004, 2007 and 2008. Horton was a key factor in the development of safety Troy Polamalu who was selected to six consecutive Pro Bowls, was named first-team All-Pro three times and was the AP Defensive Player of the Year in 2010 during his tenure with the team.

Horton had stints with the Detroit Lions [2002-03] and Cincinnati Bengals [1997-01] and began his coaching career with the Washington Redskins where he served as an assistant defensive backs/defensive assistant for three seasons.

He was a second round [53rd overall] selection by the Cincinnati Bengals in the 1983 NFL Draft and appeared in 147 career games with 99 starts for the Bengals and Cowboys. He finished his career with 19 interceptions, 11 fumble recoveries, five forced fumbles and five defensive touchdowns.

Horton and his wife, Karena have three daughters, Taylor, Camrin and Mikail and one son, Jarren.

Kyshoen Jarrett enters his third season with the Redskins and his first as a defensive quality control coach.

In 2018, Jarrett was a defensive coaching intern and his primary responsibility was working with the nickel cornerbacks during practice and film sessions.

Jarrett was a sixth round [181st overall] selection by the Redskins in the 2015 NFL Draft. He appeared in 16 games with five starts as a rookie in 2015 and recorded 57 tackles [38 solo], four passes defensed and one forced fumble before suffering a spinal cord injury in the season finale against the Dallas Cowboys.

He was a three-year starter at Virginia Tech as a defensive back and finished his career with 249 total tackles [155 solo], five interceptions and seven passes defensed.

Jarrett attended high school at East Stroudsburg South in East Stroudsburg, Pa. He was a four-year starter in high school and was a consensus four-star prospect at defensive back.

2008-11	Running Backs Coach	Texas A&M
2012-13	Running Backs Coach	North Carolina
2014-Pres.	Running Backs Coach	Washington Redskins

Randy Jordan enters his sixth season as the Redskins running back coach in 2019 after initially being named to the position on January 26, 2014.

A nine-year NFL veteran as a player from 1993-2002, Jordan appeared in 122 career games with the Raiders and Jaguars. He was the recipient of the NFL Unsung Hero Award and the Ed Block Courage Award in 2001 and served as special teams captain for the Raiders' AFC Championship team in 2002.

In 2018, Jordan guided a group that ranked fourth in the NFL in rushing on second down and was a key factor in the offensive finishing seventh in the league in 3rd-and-1 conversion rate. He was also instrumental in running back Adrian Peterson having his best season since 2015. Peterson finished the season ranked fifth in rushing attempts [251], eighth in rushing yards [1,042] and third in fourth quarter rushing yards [332]. Peterson also had the longest touchdown run of his career with a 90 yarder against the Philadelphia Eagles on Monday Night Football in Week 13.

In 2017, Jordan oversaw a group that was ravaged by injury, as his coaching acumen was called upon to prepare eight different running backs for game action, tied with Arizona for the most in the NFL. The group was particularly efficient as receivers out of the backfield, accounting for 885 receiving yards, the fourth-most in the NFL [Saints, 1,254; Patriots, 957; Browns, 923] and the most by a group of Redskins running backs since 2000 [1,127].

Jordan also presided over a breakout 2017 campaign for Chris Thompson, who led the Redskins in both rushing and receiving yards prior to suffering a season-ending injury in Week 11. Thompson recorded only the sixth season in franchise history with at least 275 rushing yards and at least 500 receiving yards and was one of six NFL players to accomplish the feat in 2017 [Todd Gurley II, Le'Veon Bell, Alvin Kamara, Christian McCaffrey and Duke Johnson Jr.], though Thompson accomplished the feat in 10 games while the other five players all appeared in at least 15 contests.

Jordan's hard-nosed approach to the position was evident in the team's running backs in 2016, a year in which the Redskins gained 1,058 of their rushing yards after contact, second-most in the NFL. Jordan oversaw the development of rookie free agent Rob Kelley, who ascended to the starting role mid-year and finished the season as the team's leader in rushing attempts [168], rushing yards [704] and rushing touchdowns [six]. Jordan also helped Chris Thompson become the first member of the Redskins to record at least 325 rushing yards and 325 receiving yards in a single season since Roy Helu Jr. in 2011, all while serving as a critical component in pass protection to the team's record-setting aerial attack despite standing 5-foot-8 and 195 pounds.

In 2015, Jordan oversaw a rotating stable of backs that included workhorse Alfred Morris [202 carries for 751 yards with one touchdown], third-round pick Matt Jones [144 carries for 490 yards with three touchdowns] and Thompson [gained 6.2 yards per carry on 35 attempts]. The group also contributed heavily in pass protection, helping the Redskins decrease their sack total from 58 in 2014 to 27 in 2015.

In his first season in Washington in 2014, Jordan helped Morris earn his second consecutive Pro Bowl berth, making Morris the first Redskins running back selected to consecutive Pro Bowls since Stephen Davis in 1999-2000. Morris joined Davis as the only backs in team history to record three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons. Jordan's work was also evident in the play of fullback Darrel Young, who matched his career highs in rushing touchdowns [three] and receiving touchdowns [two] en route to a career-high five total touchdowns in 2014.

Before joining the Redskins, Jordan spent two years as the running backs coach at his alma mater, North Carolina. In his first season with UNC in 2012, Jordan's Tar Heels averaged 193.8 rushing yards per game, third-most in the Atlantic Coast Conference and the program's highest average since 1994. That season, he tutored tailback Giovani Bernard to one of the best seasons in UNC history, helping Bernard average 122.8 rushing yards per game, most in the ACC and 11th in the nation.

Jordan coached running backs at Texas A&M for four seasons from 2008-11. In 2011, the Aggies averaged 199.1 rushing yards per game, fourth-most in the Big 12 Conference, and had two different backs – Cyrus Gray and Christine Michael – finish among the top five in the conference in rushing yards per game.

Jordan left for Aggieland from the University of Nebraska where he served as the running backs coach for the Cornhuskers from 2004-07. Jordan helped shape the I-back position, coaching two 1,000-yard rushers in Cody Ross in 2004 and Marlon Lucky in 2007. He oversaw a committee of backs in 2006 that produced nearly 2,400 rushing yards and 26 rushing touchdowns, as an improved effort on the ground helped NU move from 107th in 2005 to 23rd nationally in rushing offense in 2006.

Jordan began his coaching career with the Oakland Raiders as a special teams assistant midway through the 2003 season. He played nine years in the NFL as a running back, playing in 122 career games from 1993 through 2002. He began his career with the Los Angeles Raiders before joining the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars in 1995 and playing three seasons. Jordan holds the distinction of scoring the very first touchdown for the Jacksonville club, a 71-yard reception against Cincinnati in 1995.

After the 1997 season, Jordan rejoined the Raiders' organization where he played five more seasons. In 1998, Jordan rushed for 159 yards for the Raiders. He had a career-high 213 yards rushing and three touchdowns in helping the Raiders reach the AFC Championship Game in 2000. He also caught 27 passes for 299 yards and a touchdown that same season.

Jordan finished his career with 574 yards rushing and seven touchdowns, while making 58 catches for 596 yards and two touchdowns. Jordan was also a standout special teams player. He finished his career with 801 yards on 38 career kick returns, including a season best of 553 yards on 26 returns for Jacksonville in 1996. He also recorded 64 career tackles on special teams.

Jordan played for the University of North Carolina under coach Mack Brown from 1989-92. He earned three letters for the Tar Heels rushing for 1,134 yards and nine touchdowns in his career, including 618 yards and seven touchdowns in 1991.

Jordan earned his bachelor's degree in speech communication from North Carolina in 1993. He was born in Manson, N.C. Jordan and his wife, Romonda, have a daughter, Raven – a volleyball player at the University at Buffalo – and two sons, Jalen and Justin.

PAUL KELLY

21ST NFL SEASON
10TH WITH REDSKINS

Paul Kelly enters his 21st NFL season and his 10th as the Redskins Director of Football Operations in 2019. Kelly, who was named to the post on February 16, 2010, works directly with Interim Head Coach Bill Callahan and is responsible for coordinating the team's daily operations, including all travel and accommodations for home and away games, managing all football department budgets, coordinating training camp logistics and managing the year-round football schedule.

Additionally, Kelly serves as the coaching staff's liaison on all matters relating to the athletic training, equipment, video and the public relations departments, serving as the point of communication in administering every Redskins practice and team function, including all mini-camps, OTA days and training camp.

Kelly previously spent five seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers [2004-08] and six seasons with the Oakland Raiders [1998-2003]. He spent the 2009 season assisting the broadcast team of ESPN's Monday Night Football.

In his five seasons with the Buccaneers, Kelly worked directly with Head Coach Jon Gruden in organizing football operations for the club and directed many of the day-to-day operations of the team. During Kelly's five seasons as a member of the Buccaneers' staff, the Buccaneers captured NFC South titles in 2005 and 2007.

Kelly spent six seasons [1998-2003] as an assistant on the Oakland Raiders coaching staff, which included three consecutive Division Championships [2000, 2001 & 2002]. In 2002, he helped Head Coach Bill Callahan guide Oakland to its first Super Bowl appearance in 19 years as the Raiders represented the AFC in Super Bowl XXXVII.

Kelly graduated with a bachelor's degree in business administration with an emphasis in new ventures and small business management from California State University Hayward in 1990. Prior to joining the Raiders, he owned and managed his own San Francisco Bay Area-based businesses.

Kelly and his wife, Catherine, have three children. His oldest son, Colin, is a lieutenant in the United States Army. His daughter, Lauren, is a student and women's soccer player at William & Mary. His youngest son, Hunter, is a student at George Mason and a batboy for the Washington Nationals.

Cannon Matthews enters his 10th NFL season and his second with the Redskins in 2019 after being named as defensive quality control on February 13, 2017.

Matthews joined the Redskins in 2017 with eight years of previous NFL coaching experience. Before coming to Washington, he served as the assistant defensive backs coach for the Cleveland Browns in 2016, helping guide a unit that recorded all 10 of the team's interceptions that season. The stint was his second with the Browns, including a defensive coaching internship during the 2013 season in which Cleveland jumped from 23rd to ninth in the NFL in total defense.

From 2014-15, Matthews held the defensive quality control role for the Tennessee Titans, assisting with the team's linebackers. In his first season with the Titans in 2014, the team recorded at least one sack by 18 different players, a team record and the most in the NFL. A year later, the Titans finished sixth in the NFL in sacks per pass play, seventh in passing yards allowed and eighth in opponent rushing average.

Matthews spent one season as the running backs coach at Kentucky Christian University in 2012, helping the Knights to a 7-4 record and top-25 ranking during the first winning season in school history.

Prior to his time at the collegiate level, Matthews spent four years with the Buffalo Bills. He served as a defensive and special teams coaching assistant from 2008-09 before transitioning to the offensive side of the ball for the 2010-11 seasons. He entered pro football as a personnel intern with the Arena Football League's Arizona Rattlers in 2008.

A native of Bedford Heights, Ohio, Matthews earned a degree in sport management from Ohio University.

2017-Pres.	Asst. Special Teams Coach	Washington Redskins

Bret Munsey enters his sixth season with the Redskins in 2019 after initially joining the team during the 2014 offseason.

In 2018, Munsey helped oversee a unit that was ranked first in the NFL in kickoff returns allowed [13]. He was a major part in guiding punter Tress Way who had a career season. Way finished the season with a league leading 41 punts inside the 20 yard line and was the only punter in the NFL to not record a touchback [minimum of 20 punts]. He also finished the season with a 41.5 net average which was the ninth best mark in the league last season.

In 2017, Munsey and Special Teams Coordinator Ben Kotwica helped the Redskins rank second in the NFL in kickoff return average allowed at 18.7 yards per return, the team's lowest average allowed since 2001 [17.2]. The performance guided the Redskins to their eighth Top 5 finish in the NFL [2006-11, 2015, 2017] in kickoff coverage in a 12-year span. The unit accomplished the feat despite being forced by injury-related attrition to use 66 different players on special teams, the franchise's most in a season in participation data records dating back to 1993.

Munsey helped a number of Redskins special teamers turn in notable performances in 2016. With 34 field goals on the year, kicker Dustin Hopkins broke Mark Moseley's team record of 33 field goals set in 1983. Meanwhile, returner Jamison Crowder ended the team's 124-game drought without a punt return for touchdown in Week 5 at Baltimore, returning a punt 85 yards for a touchdown in an eventual six-point win. The Redskins finished the season with an 11.9-yard punt return average, fourth-best in the NFL, marking the Redskins' first finish in the Top 5 in punt return average since leading the league in the category in 1995.

Munsey contributed to the Redskins' special teams success in 2015 during its NFC East championship season. The unit posted a Top 5 ranking in kickoff coverage [20.1 yards allowed per return] and contributed three special teams touchdowns, including a team-record-tying two kickoff returns for touchdowns and a blocked punt recovery for a touchdown.

Prior to joining the Redskins, Munsey served as a national scout for the Philadelphia Eagles during the 2013 season. He spent the 2012 season as the head coach of the Orlando Predators of the Arena Football League. Prior to his stint in Orlando, he served two seasons as the director of player personnel for the Florida Tuskers of the UFL [2009-10]. In 2011, the team moved to Virginia Beach, and as Director of Personnel, Munsey helped guide the Virginia Destroyers to the 2011 UFL Championship.

From 2006-08, Munsey served as head coach of the AFL's Philadelphia Soul. Munsey finished with a 35-20 overall record, including a 16-3 record and Arena Bowl title in 2008. In his first season with the Soul, Munsey led the team to their first postseason appearance in franchise history, finishing with a 9-7 record.

From 2003-05, Munsey served as the secondary coach and director of player personnel for the Predators in his first stint in Orlando. In 2002, Munsey was the head coach of the Tennessee Valley Vipers in the af2 league, where he was named the league's coach of the year. He spent one season with the Carolina Cobras of the AFL in 2001, after beginning his coaching career in 2000 as the defensive coordinator of the Augusta Stallions of af2.

A native of Winter Park, Fla., Munsey was a three-sport star at Winter Park H.S. He played collegiately at Concord University [W.Va.] and played professionally for the Predators from 1991-95.

2019-Pres.	Quarterbacks Coach	Washington Redskins

Tim Rattay is entering his ninth NFL season and his first with the Redskins after joining the organization during the 2018 offseason. This will be his first year as a coach at the NFL level.

Rattay had an eight-year career as a quarterback in the NFL and held coaching positions in the United Football League with the Las Vegas Locomotives and most recently with Louisiana Tech, first as a receivers coach from 2013-15 before being promoted to quarterbacks coach from 2015-18.

In Rattay's six seasons at Louisiana Tech, the team went 46-33, won two Conference USA West Division titles and was a perfect 5-0 in bowl games.

In 2016, Rattay was instrumental in Ryan Higgins' record breaking campaign. Higgins finished the season with 329 completions for 4,617 yards, 41 touchdowns and eight interceptions. Higgins finished second in passing yards and passing touchdowns in a single season in school history, trailing only Rattay who still holds the single season records in both categories from the 1998 season.

In 2015, Rattay worked with quarterback Jeff Driskel who finished the 2015 season with 281 completions for 4,033 yards, 27 touchdowns and eight interceptions. Driskel finished with the eighth most completions in a single season, the fourth most passing yards in a single season and the ninth most passing touchdowns in a single season in school history.

During his two-year tenure as the wide receivers coach for the Las Vegas Locomotives, the team went 7-1 with their only loss coming against the Virginia Destroyers in the 2011 UFL Championship game.

Rattay was selected in the seventh round [212th overall] of the 2000 NFL Draft by the San Francisco 49ers and spent six seasons with the team. He finished his NFL career with stops in Tampa Bay in 2006, Tennessee in 2007 and Arizona in 2007. Rattay appeared in 40 games in his career with 18 starts and finished 432-of-714 passing for 4,853 yards with 31 touchdowns and 23 interceptions.

While playing quarterback for Tampa Bay in 2006, Rattay was also teammates with current Redskins wide receivers coach Ike Hilliard who played receiver for the Buccaneers from 2005-08.

2017	Assistant to Head Coach	Denver Broncos
2018-19	Asst. OL Coach	Washington Redskins
2019-Pres.	OL Coach	Washington Redskins

Phil Rauscher is entering his fifth NFL season and his second with the Redskins after joining the organization during the 2018 offseason.

In 2018, Rauscher helped Assistant Head Coach/Offensive Line Bill Callahan with overseeing the offensive line. The offensive line play was a major factor in the Redskins finishing the season second in the NFL in average yards per carry in the fourth quarter with a mark of 4.95. The team also finished fifth in the league in fourth quarter rushing yards and average rushing yards in the fourth quarter with 554 yards and a 34.6 average, respectively. The offensive line play also aided running back Adrian Peterson in becoming the first Redskins running back to rush for 1,000-plus yards in a single season since 2014.

Rauscher joined the Redskins having previously spent the three previous seasons with the Denver Broncos, including serving as Assistant to Head Coach Vance Joseph in 2017. He spent the 2015-16 seasons serving as an offensive coaching assistant on the Broncos' staff, helping guide the team to victory in Super Bowl 50 following the 2015 campaign.

Prior to his tenure in Denver, Rauscher spent one season as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at California Lutheran University following two seasons as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Hawaii from 2012-13.

Rauscher spent the 2011 season at the University of Utah, where he was an administrative assistant and tight ends coach. Prior to his time at Utah, he served as offensive coordinator at Dixie State University in 2010.

Rauscher began his coaching career at his alma mater, UCLA, in 2006 as an undergraduate assistant and earned three letters as an offensive lineman before injuries cut his career short. After earning his bachelor's degree in history, Rauscher served as a graduate assistant at UCLA from 2008-09, assisting with tight ends.

2014	Defensive Coordinator	Jacksonville Univ.
2015	Defensive Graduate Asst.	Florida
2016	Defensive Coordinator	Valdosta State
2017-Pres.	Asst. Defensive Backs Coach	Washington Redskins

James Rowe enters his third season as the Redskins' assistant defensive backs coach in 2019 after being named to the position on February 9, 2017.

In 2018, Rowe helped oversee a defensive back group that was one of the best in the league in forcing turnovers. The Redskins finished the season with 15 interceptions which was tied for the ninth best mark in the league. Among defensive backs in 2018, cornerbacks Josh Norman and Fabian Moreau and safety DJ Swearinger each had three forced fumbles and were all tied for the second most forced fumbles caused by a defensive back last season.

In his first season in Washington in 2017, Rowe and Defensive Backs Coach Torrian Gray helped the unit produce the team's strongest season against the pass in nearly a decade. The unit ranked third in the NFL in completion percentage allowed [57.6 percent], the team's best ranking since leading the NFL in the category in 2005 [54.4], while finishing ninth in passing yards allowed per game [213.8, the team's lowest since 2009] and 10th in opponent passer rating [81.0, lowest since 2008].

Prior to joining the Redskins, Rowe served as Defensive Coordinator at Valdosta State, helping the Blazers to an 8-3 record in 2016. Among Division II schools, his defense led the nation with 27 interceptions and ranked fifth in the country in opposing passing efficiency, limiting opposing quarterbacks to a 98.2 passer rating. Under Rowe's guidance, Valdosta State safety Kenny Moore earned first-team All-American honors from the American Football Coaches Association.

In 2015, Rowe spent one season as a defensive graduate assistant at the University of Florida. That season, the Florida defense ranked No. 8 in scoring defense, No. 6 in total defense and No. 11 in pass defense, while Rowe assisted in the development of All-American defensive backs Vernon Hargreaves, Marcus Maye, Keanu Neal and Teez Tabor.

From 2012-14, Rowe served in a variety of coaching capacities at Jacksonville University. He began his tenure assisting with the team's defensive backs in 2012, adding the wide receivers to his purview in 2013 and eventually being promoted to defensive coordinator in 2014. He began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at Bethel [Tenn.] University in 2011, helping the Wildcats finish the year ranked No. 14 in the nation.

Rowe, a native of Cocoa, Fla., was a student-athlete at South Florida, lettering three times as a member of the Bulls' baseball team. After majoring in business administration, he earned his degree from the university in 2009.

He married his wife, Tiffany, in July of 2019.

2013-15	Defensive Coordinator	New Orleans Saints
2016	Assistant Head Coach/Defense	Buffalo Bills
2019-Pres.	Inside Linebackers Coach	Washington Redskins

Rob Ryan is entering his 20th NFL season and his first with the Washington Redskins after joining the team as inside linebackers coach on January 30, 2019. He has held defensive coordinator roles with the New Orleans Saints [2013-15], Dallas Cowboys [2011-12], Cleveland Browns [2009-10] and Oakland Raiders [2004-08].

In 2013, Ryan led a defensive unit in New Orleans that ranked No. 4 in the league in points-per-game and No. 2 in the league in passing defense. In the 2013 postseason, the Saints defeated the Philadelphia Eagles in the Wild Card Round of the playoffs and entered the game with the league's No. 2 ranked offense.

During his two-year tenure as the Dallas Cowboys defensive coordinator, Ryan worked with OLB Demarcus Ware who posted 10-plus sack seasons in 2011 and 2012. Ware finished No. 2 in the league in sacks in 2011 with 19.5, the second most in a single season in his 12-year NFL career.

Ryan spent the 2009-10 seasons as the defensive coordinator for the Cleveland Browns. His unit ranked No. 13 in the league in points allowed in 2010. Ryan was also instrumental in the development of rookie cornerback Joe Haden who posted six interceptions and finished tied for the fifth most in the league that season.

Ryan got his first defensive coordinator position in the NFL with the Oakland Raiders and held the role for five seasons from 2004-08. In 2006, his defense finished the season No. 3 in yards-per-game. He worked with CB Nnamdi Asomugha who posted eight interceptions in 2006 and finished tied for third in the league that season. During his tenure with Oakland, he also worked with DE Derrick Burgess who posted 10-plus sack seasons in 2005-06 and led the league in sacks in 2005 with 16.0.

Prior to joining the Raiders, Ryan served as the linebacker's coach with the New England Patriots from 2000-03. Ryan was part of a defense in 2003 that ranked No. 1 in the league in points allowed and No. 7 in total defense. During Ryan's four years in New England, the team captured two Super Bowls, defeating the St. Louis Rams in Super Bowl XXXVI and defeating the Carolina Panthers in Super Bowl XXXVIII.

Ryan got his start in the NFL coaching under his father, Buddy Ryan, as the defensive backs coach with the Arizona Cardinals from 1994-95. He was the position coach for Hall of Famer Aeneas Williams who registered 15 interceptions during the two seasons under Ryan. Williams' nine interceptions in 1994 were tied for first in the NFL that season.

Stamn spent seven seasons with the Liberty Flames serving as the team's offensive coordinator from 2012-15 and tight ends and fullbacks coach from 2012-16 before being named the team's assistant offensive line coach from 2017-18.

During Stamn's four-year stint as offensive coordinator, Liberty had 23 offensive players selected to All-Big South teams [13 first team, 10 second team] and 18 players named to VaSID All-State teams [10 first team, eight second team].

Prior to working at Liberty, he spent the 2010-11 season with Kansas as a tight ends coach and Special Teams Coordinator. From 2006-09, Stamn served the University of Buffalo in a variety of ways, coaching the offensive line as well as tight ends and coordinating special teams.

Stamn began his coaching career at his alma mater, serving as a student assistant at Minnesota State — Mankato for two seasons [2000-01].

After graduating, Stamn spent two years at St. Cloud State as a graduate assistant. Stamn worked with the Huskies' defensive line and linebackers and helped St. Cloud State post a 16-6 overall record and finish No. 3 in the nation in rushing defense in 2002.

Stamn worked at Nebraska during the 2004 and 2005 seasons. During his two-year stint, Nebraska tallied a program record-setting 50 sacks in 2005 and recorded a 32-28 upset of No. 20 Michigan in the Alamo Bowl. While at Nebraska, Stamn worked under current Redskins Interim Head Coach Bill Callahan.

Served as Interim Head Coach for final game of 2010 season*
NFL Europe experience included in separate box*

Jim Tomsula enters his third season as the Redskins defensive line coach in 2019 after being named to the position on January 23, 2017.

Tomsula joined the Redskins in the 2017 offseason with 32 previous seasons of football experience at the high school, college and professional levels since the fall of 1989. Prior to joining the Redskins, he spent nine years with the San Francisco 49ers, including serving as the 19th head coach in franchise history in 2015 after serving one game as the team's interim head coach in 2010.

In 2018, Tomsula continued his work with defensive linemen Jonathan Allen and Matt Ioannidis as well as playing a huge role in the development of 2018 first-round pick Daron Payne and rookie Tim Settle. The Redskins finished the 2018 season ranked seventh in the league in sacks with 46 total. The combination of Allen, Ioannidis and Payne contributed 20.5 of those 46 total sacks. Ioannidis built on his impressive 2017 campaign with single season career highs in sacks [7.5], tackles [23] and tackles for loss [6] in 2018. Allen finished the season second on the team in sacks with 8.0, trailing only outside linebacker Ryan Kerrigan [13.0]. Payne had an impressive rookie season and finished the 2018 campaign tied for fifth among rookies with 5.0 sacks.

In his first season in Washington in 2017, Tomsula inherited and developed a young group that included first-round pick Jonathan Allen and second-year players Matt Ioannidis and Anthony Lanier II in addition to veteran Ziggy Hood and free agent signings Terrell McClain and Stacy McGee. Both Ioannidis and Lanier made developmental leaps in their second seasons under Tomsula's purview, as Lanier led all Redskins defensive linemen with 5.0 sacks, the fifth-most by a Redskins defensive lineman since the team switched to a 3-4 base in 2010, while Ioannidis recorded career highs in games played [14], starts [10], total tackles [27], solo tackles [13], sacks [4.5] and forced fumbles [one].

During an eight-year run as the 49ers' defensive line coach from 2007-14, Tomsula was instrumental in developing one of the league's top-performing defenses in that timeframe. Across those eight seasons, the 49ers ranked fourth in the league in rushing yards allowed per game [98.4] and second in rushing average [3.72]. San Francisco's defense also ranked third in the NFL in points per game allowed [19.4] and fourth in yards per game allowed [320.9] during that stretch. In 2011, Tomsula's defensive line and the San Francisco defense set an NFL record by not allowing a rushing touchdown in their first 14 games of the season. The team surrendered just three rushing touchdowns all year, the fewest allowed in the NFL since the league went to a 16-game schedule in 1978.

Under Tomsula's tutelage, defensive tackle Justin Smith was named to five consecutive Pro Bowls [2009-13] and earned All-Pro honors three times from 2011-13. Despite being the fourth overall pick in the 2001 NFL Draft, Smith had never been selected to either team prior to working with Tomsula.

Tomsula joined the 49ers after enjoying one of the most successful stints in NFL Europe history. Prior to being named the head coach of the Rhein Fire — which made him the youngest head coach in NFLE history at age 38 in 2006 — Tomsula served as the Berlin Thunder's defensive coordinator for two seasons, winning World Bowl XII in his first season with a defense that ranked first in the NFLE against the run.

Tomsula joined the NFLE in 1998 as the defensive line coach of the England Monarchs. He then went on to serve in the same capacity for five seasons with the Scottish Claymores, where he established a reputation for producing some of the league's most dominant lines. He also played a leading role in mentoring and teaching young talent in the league's National Player Development program.

Between NFL Europe seasons, Tomsula spent each fall as a member of the coaching staff Division II Catawba College in Salisbury, N.C., where he had been a defensive lineman after transferring from Middle Tennessee State.

Tomsula's coaching career began with great uncertainty, but his desire to coach the game was steadfast. In 1989, Tomsula began his coaching career as an assistant at his alma mater following a career-ending knee injury. The following season, he went on to coach the defensive line at Woodland Hills [Pa.] H.S.. After spending the next two years out of coaching to provide for his family as a medical equipment sales rep with Thera-Kinetics, Tomsula landed a position as an assistant on the Charleston Southern University coaching staff [1992-95]. He would once again spend two seasons out of coaching, as he returned to his hometown of Pittsburgh to serve as a sales representative with Cisco Foods. Urged by his family to continue his dream of coaching football, Tomsula returned to the coaching ranks in 1997 as the volunteer assistant defensive line coach at Catawba.

He and his wife, Julie, have two daughters, Britney and Brooke, and a son, Bear.

DOUG WILLIAMS
SR. VP OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

23RD NFL SEASON
10TH WITH REDSKINS

Doug Williams was named as the Redskins' Senior Vice President of Player Personnel on June 13, 2017, after initially returning to the team as a personnel executive in February 2014. In his current role, one of the most celebrated athletes in franchise history now helps lead and guide the efforts of the team's personnel department across the pro and collegiate scouting ranks.

"His résumé is impressive, as you all know, but it's really remarkable when you consider everything he's done that matters in this job. This job is daily communication and leadership of the personnel department. It's daily communication and leadership of our coaches and players," President Bruce Allen said upon Williams' promotion. "Doug being a high school coach, a high school athletic director, obviously an outstanding player, fits the role perfectly for where we want to be as Washington Redskins. His probably most-understated accomplishment, he's one of only a handful of people who is in two Ring of Honors in the NFL. And it's not just about the player, it's about the man."

Williams, a member of the 80 Greatest Redskins and a Redskins Ring of Famer, played with the Redskins from 1986-89 and led Washington to a Super Bowl XXII title, a 42-10 rout of the Denver Broncos. Williams, the first African-American quarterback to play in a Super Bowl, completed 18-of-29 passes for 340 yards with four touchdown passes to earn Super Bowl XXII MVP honors.

Williams is a veteran of 21 NFL seasons, including nine as a player and 12 in scouting/personnel roles. He spent five seasons as Personnel Executive with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 2004-08 before being named the team's Director of Pro Personnel for the 2009 season.

Williams joined the Buccaneers' front office in 2004 following a successful tenure as head coach at his alma mater, Grambling State, and one of the most storied playing careers in league and team history. His responsibilities in Tampa included coordinating the scouting and recruiting of all NFL players, while also monitoring NFL transactions and overseeing player tryouts. In addition, he was in charge of Tampa Bay's evaluating efforts of all other professional football leagues, including the Canadian Football League.

Williams, a first-round pick by Tampa Bay in the 1978 NFL Draft [17th overall], led the Buccaneers to the first three playoff appearances in team history. He propelled the team to three winning seasons [10-6 in 1979, 9-7 in 1981 and 5-4 in 1982], the only campaigns in franchise history with a winning record until more than 15 years later, in the 1997 season. Williams, who started 67 career games for the Buccaneers, was a two-time team MVP in 1980 and 1981. He ended his Tampa Bay career in 1982 as the all-time franchise leader in touchdown passes, passing yards, attempts and completions.

In 1986, the Redskins traded for Williams' rights following two seasons with the USFL's Oklahoma Outlaws. In Williams' Super Bowl XXII MVP performance following the 1987 season, he set or tied several Super Bowl passing records, including most TD passes [four], most yards passing [340], longest pass completion [80 yards] and longest TD pass [80 yards].

In six seasons during his first tenure [1998-2003] at Grambling State, Williams brought one of the most storied programs in college football history back to prominence, compiling a 52-18 record as head coach after succeeding the legendary Eddie Robinson, who was at the helm for 57 years from 1941-97 and re-wrote the record books as the winningest coach in the history of college football with 408 career wins.

Williams led the Tigers to three consecutive Southwestern Athletic Conference titles from 2000-02 as they were named National Black College Champions during the same three-year span. He was also named SWAC Coach of the Year in each of those three seasons. Williams was a two-time finalist for The Sports Network Eddie Robinson [Division I-AA] National Coach of the Year. He rejoined the program for three seasons from 2011-13, including earning the SWAC title in his first season back in 2011.

Williams started his college head coaching career at Morehouse College in 1997. He also has previous NFL experience as a scout for the Jacksonville Jaguars in 1995 and as offensive coordinator for the Scottish Claymores of the World League in 1995 and tutoring running backs for Navy in 1994. Williams also excelled on the high school level as head coach and athletic director at Point Coupee H.S. in New Roads, La., in 1991. In 1993, he was head coach at Northeast H.S. in his hometown of Zachary, La., where he guided the team to a 13-1 record and the state semifinals, including a win over Peyton Manning's Isidore Newman squad in the 1993 state quarterfinals.

As Grambling's quarterback from 1974-77, Williams had a spectacular college career as he passed for more than 8,000 yards and 93 touchdowns, leading the Tigers to three Black College National Championships and two SWAC titles. He posted a 35-5 record as a starter and finished fourth in voting for the 1977 Heisman Trophy.

In 2005, Williams and Shack Harris established The Shack Harris & Doug Williams Foundation with the function of providing grants for after-school initiatives, leadership development, mentoring programs and minority higher education assistance for economically disadvantaged youth. In March of 2009, the foundation put on its first annual Washington Football Legends for Charity in Washington, D.C. In 2010, the foundation established the Black College Football Hall of Fame, which will move to its new home in Canton, Ohio in 2018.

After Super Bowl XLII, the NFL honored the 20th anniversary of Williams' Super Bowl XXII victory as Williams was chosen to present the Lombardi Trophy to the New York Giants following their victory over the New England Patriots.

ERIC SCHAFFER

SR. VP OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS/GENERAL COUNSEL

17TH NFL SEASON
17TH WITH REDSKINS

Eric Schaffer, now entering his 17th season with the Redskins in 2019, currently serves as the franchise's Senior Vice President of Football Operations and General Counsel.

Schaffer was promoted to his current role as Senior Vice President of Football Operations on June 13, 2017, and now assumes a larger role in the leadership and oversight of the team's personnel department. He remains the club's chief contract negotiator and is responsible for the strategic planning, management and forecasting of the Redskins' salary cap and cash budgets. In addition, Schaffer oversees extensive research and analysis of NFL player contracts and evaluates the roster composition of each club throughout the NFL. He also serves as the Redskins' primary liaison to the NFL Management Council.

In addition to his role as Senior Vice President of Football Operations, Schaffer serves as the Redskins' General Counsel, advising the club on all legal matters and contributing significantly to the team's business operations. His areas of oversight include sponsorships, licensing, vendor and employment agreements [for football and non-football employees], human resources issues, team litigation, as well as workers' compensation, among various others. Schaffer also serves as a board member of the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation.

Schaffer works closely with President Bruce Allen, Senior Vice President of Player Personnel Doug Williams and Head Coach Jay Gruden along with the team's personnel staff to help shape the Redskins' roster. This offseason, he negotiated the contract for safety Landon Collins and helped secure the three-time Pro Bowler with a six-year deal. In addition, he negotiated the contract extension with standout defensive lineman Matt Ioannidis just prior to the draft, ensuring that the core members of the defensive line will stay together for the foreseeable future.

In 2018, Schaffer negotiated a long-term contract for Alex Smith that secured Smith's trade from the Kansas City Chiefs. At the start of the NFL league year, he quickly signed up-and-coming receiver Paul Richardson Jr.

In 2017, Schaffer negotiated a contract extension for Morgan Moses, one of the game's top young right tackles. Moses' contract was yet another multi-year extension to which Schaffer has signed the team's young talent in recent years, including deals with perennial Pro Bowler Trent Williams, Ryan Kerrigan, Jordan Reed, Tress Way and others. Schaffer also led the charge on key free agency additions in 2017, including the acquisitions of Brown, safety D.J. Swearinger, and defensive lineman Stacy McGee.

Prior to the 2016 season, Schaffer and the Redskins mobilized quickly to recruit and sign All-Pro cornerback Josh Norman. The moves followed a 2015 season in which Schaffer and the Redskins adeptly added veteran leaders with winning pedigrees to a young roster that ultimately secured the NFC East title. He has adroitly navigated the salary cap each year, including helping the club overcome a $36 million cap penalty in 2012 en route to its first NFC East title since 1999.

In the 2011 offseason abbreviated by the NFL labor dispute, Schaffer helped the team secure several key players in a flurry of activity after a new Collective Bargaining Agreement was agreed upon by the NFL and NFLPA. In 16 years [2003-18] with the Redskins, Schaffer has negotiated the contracts for every one of Washington's draft picks, including 24 first- and second-round picks.

Schaffer originally joined the Redskins in 2003 as the team's salary cap manager. He was promoted first to Director of Football Administration in 2005 and again to Vice President of Football Administration in 2007. He added the General Counsel role in 2012.

Prior to joining the Redskins, Schaffer spent 11 years with International Management Group [IMG] in various roles. He started as an intern for IMG's founder, the late Mark McCormack, and moved on to their motorsports division where he sold corporate sponsorships and managed young drivers. He eventually became the staff counsel for IMG Football, where he oversaw all legal issues related to 90 NFL clients and negotiated player contracts as an NFLPA registered agent.

Schaffer holds both a bachelor's degree in history from the University of Michigan and a law degree from Case Western Reserve University, where he completed his studies while working full-time for IMG. A native of Cleveland, Ohio, he is a member of the Ohio Bar Association as well as admitted in Virginia as Club Counsel. Schaffer currently resides in Ashburn, Va., with his wife, Jaymie, and three children, Cameron [13], Logan [11], and Bailey [8].

ALEX SANTOS

DIRECTOR OF PRO PERSONNEL

14TH NFL SEASON
14TH WITH REDSKINS

Alex Santos enters his 14th season with Washington in 2019 and his seventh as the Redskins' Director of Pro Personnel after being named to his current role on May 31, 2014. He is responsible for coordinating the advance scouting of Redskins opponents and the evaluation of all professional leagues for potential free agents and trade prospects. He also contributes to the team's draft preparation, making school visits to help evaluate top college talent.

In addition to helping the team acquire top talent in unrestricted free agency, Santos has routinely helped supplement the Redskins' roster by identifying key midseason additions. As the team faced an injury-ravaged 2017 campaign, Santos and his staff added a number of players that became important contributors down the stretch, including running back Kapri Bibbs [caught a 36-yard touchdown pass in his Washington debut in Week 15], versatile offensive lineman Tony Bergstrom [played in nine games with three starts] and kicker Nick Rose [10-of-11 on field goal attempts with the Redskins while filling in for an injured Dustin Hopkins].

In 2015, thanks in part to Santos and his staff, the Redskins received significant contributions from a number of in-season signings during the team's NFC East championship campaign, including cornerback Will Blackmon [tied for team lead in interceptions after signing prior to Week 2], linebacker Mason Foster [started the final five games of the season after signing in Week 4] and running back Pierre Thomas [caught seven passes for 67 yards in division-clinching win after signing with the team only two weeks earlier].

Santos previously spent five seasons from 2009-13 as a pro scout, where in addition to the advance scouting of opponents, he was responsible for assisting with the club's evaluation of personnel in the NFL and Canadian Football League. He originally joined the Redskins in 2006 as a pro personnel assistant.

Santos spent 2005 as a graduate assistant and quality control/offensive line intern coach at Vanderbilt University. Prior to that, he was the assistant head football coach at Eastside High School in Paterson, N.J. At Eastside, he also coached the offensive line, directed the strength and conditioning program and was one of the school's special education instructors.

A four-year starter at guard for North Carolina State University, Santos graduated in 2000 with a bachelor's degree in Spanish literature. He also earned a Master's degree from New Jersey City State University. A native of Paterson, N.J., he currently resides in Northern Virginia, with his wife, Melanie, and their daughter.

KYLE SMITH
DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE PERSONNEL

10TH NFL SEASON
10TH WITH REDSKINS

Kyle Smith is entering his 10th season with the Redskins and his third as the team's Director of College Personnel in 2018.

Smith initially joined the team on a full-time basis as an area scout during the 2011 offseason. After being promoted to Director of College Personnel in June 2017, Smith now oversees the organization's evaluation of collegiate talent, managing scouting efforts at both the area and national levels.

Smith began his professional career as an intern with the Redskins in 2010. He joined the team on a full-time basis in 2011 and spent six seasons as an area scout for the organization. Prior to his promotion to Director of College Personnel, he most recently oversaw the team's scouting efforts in the Southeast region, a region that produced the team's first- and second-round picks in both the 2017 and 2018 NFL Drafts.

Smith was a vital part of the team's 2019 NFL Draft. The Redskins selected 10 players, including two in the first round for the first time since 2005. Among the selections were first-round quarterback Dwayne Haskins, who joined the Redskins following a standout season at Ohio State where he threw for 4,831 yards with 50 touchdowns and only eight interceptions and first-round linebacker Montez Sweat who the team acquired via a trade with the Indianapolis Colts. Sweat registered 30 sacks in two seasons at Mississippi State and was regarded as one of the best edge rushers in the 2019 draft class.

In his first draft as Director of College Personnel, Smith collaborated with his staff and Senior Vice President of Player Personnel Doug Williams in identifying and selecting the eight players that comprised the team's 2018 draft class. Among the selections were first-round defensive lineman Daron Payne, who joined the Redskins following his dominant showing for Alabama in the College Football Playoff, as well as second-round running back Derrius Guice, who exited his collegiate career at LSU ranked second only to Auburn legend Bo Jackson in yards per carry in SEC history.

Smith graduated from Youngstown State, where he was twice named honorable mention all-conference while playing wide receiver and punt returner from 2002-05. He finished his collegiate career ranked 11th in program history in career receptions [101] and receiving yards [1,534], third in punt returns [56] and fourth in punt return yards [377]. Smith also owned the school record for consecutive games with a reception [30].

As a senior, Smith was elected a team captain and earned the team's Most Valuable Player Award. Following the season he was invited to play in the 2006 Hula Bowl All-Star Game. Smith signed as a college free agent with the Minnesota Vikings, where he spent part of the 2006 offseason. In January of 2007, he was signed by Tampa Bay, which allocated him to NFL Europe's Berlin Thunder. He later had practice squad stints in the Arena Football League and Canadian Football League.

Smith was born in Warwick, R.I., and raised in Buffalo, N.Y. He is the son of long-time NFL executive A.J. Smith.

TIM GRIBBLE
ASST. DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE PERSONNEL

20TH NFL SEASON
18TH WITH REDSKINS

Tim Gribble is entering his 20th season in the NFL and 18th with the Redskins in 2019. He was formally promoted to Assistant Director of College Personnel in June 2017.

In his current role, Gribble assists Director of College Personnel Kyle Smith and the Redskins' personnel staff by providing evaluations of collegiate talent at the national level. In 2018, Gribble played a key role in assisting Smith and Senior Vice President of Player Personnel Doug Williams in identifying and selecting the team's 10 draft picks, including standouts Dwayne Haskins and Montez Sweat in the first round.

Prior to his promotion in 2017, Gribble spent the previous 11 seasons as an area scout for the Redskins, most recently overseeing scouting operations in the Midlands region. Gribble originally joined the Redskins in 2002 and served as a pro personnel assistant, later adding responsibility as the team's Northeast scout in 2003. He also covered the South and Midwest regions at various points during his first 16 years with the organization.

Before coming to Washington, Gribble spent two seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers as an assistant in the scouting department. Prior to joining the NFL, he was an assistant coach for his alma mater, Duquesne University. He served as the Dukes' special teams coordinator [1996-2000], defensive line coach [1996-98] and running backs coach [1998-2000].

Gribble was a four-year starter [1992-96] at fullback and team captain at Duquesne. He also played baseball for the Dukes and earned dual degrees in psychology and sociology. He is married to his wife, Jennifer.

RICHARD MANN II
ASST. DIRECTOR OF PRO PERSONNEL

13TH NFL SEASON
10TH WITH REDSKINS

Richard Mann II is entering his 10th season with the Washington Redskins and his third as Assistant Director of Pro Personnel in 2019.

Mann served as a pro scout in his first seven seasons with the Redskins. In addition to weekly advance scouting of Redskins opponents in that time frame, he was responsible for assisting in the evaluation and writing of player reports on potential talent in NFL free agency, the Canadian Football League and the Arena Football League.

Mann spent his first three seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, where he served as a personnel assistant in 2007 and 2008 and a college personnel assistant in 2009. With the Buccaneers, he was able to work with his father, NFL coach Richard Mann, a veteran assistant coach who retired in the 2018 offseason following 33 years of NFL service.

A return specialist at Salisbury University, Mann earned his bachelor's degree in interpersonal communication with a minor in marketing before receiving his Master's degree in sports leadership from Duquesne University in June 2008. Mann was a three-year member of the football team at Salisbury, earning All-Conference honors in 2002, while averaging 31.8 yards per kickoff return.

His first NFL experiences came in the summer of 1994 as equipment assistant with the Cleveland Browns and in 2003 as a pro personnel intern with the Baltimore Ravens. He and his wife, Chenel, have one son, Richard Mann III, and one daughter, Liliana, and reside in Leesburg, Va.

JEFF SCOTT
DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL STRATEGY/SCOUT

8TH NFL SEASON
8TH WITH REDSKINS

Jeff Scott enters his eighth season with the Redskins and his second as the team's Director of Football Strategy/Scout in 2019.

Scott originally joined the team in January 2012 as a salary cap intern, assisting with cap analysis and contracts before becoming a scouting intern in May 2012. He served as a player personnel assistant during the 2013 season and as a Pro Scout starting in 2014. In 2018, he was formally promoted to Director of Football Strategy/Scout in 2018.

Scott is responsible for advance scouting of opponents, evaluating players in free agency and writing scouting reports of players entering the NFL Draft. In addition, he assists the Senior Vice President of Football Operations with contract negotiations, strategic planning, Management Council compliance and salary cap management. He also manages research and strategic efforts, providing frequent analysis on special projects for both the Player Personnel department and the coaching staff.

Scott graduated with a bachelor's degree in political science from Davidson College, where he played defensive back from 2004-07. During his sophomore season in 2005, he led the Pioneer Football League in fumbles forced. Scott received his Master's degree in sports management from Georgetown University in 2012.

Scott is originally from Fredericksburg, Va., and currently resides with his wife, Rachel, and daughter, Alivia, in Northern Virginia.

BRIAN ZECHES
PERSONNEL COORDINATOR/ PRO SCOUT

7TH NFL SEASON
6TH WITH REDSKINS

Brian Zeches enters his seventh NFL season and his sixth with the Redskins in 2018 after joining the team during the 2014 offseason.

In his current role, Zeches contributes to both the pro and college scouting departments. As part of his pro scouting duties, he contributes advance scouting reports of opponents, evaluates and presents reports on potential free agents, and coordinates player workouts. On the college side, he serves as the liaison to the annual NFL Scouting Combine and BLESTO Scouting, handles logistics for all draft meetings, maintains the team's prospect database, and coordinates both the team's pre-draft visits and annual local pro days.

Zeches joined the Redskins after working for DVSport, Inc., a company that provides digital video acquisition, analysis and playback software designed specifically for the sports market. He previously served as a scouting assistant for the Kansas City Chiefs in 2012.

Zeches' background also includes having coached running backs at Weber State for two seasons from 2010-11. In addition, he previously worked as a graduate assistant at the University of New Mexico from 2006-07 and at UTEP from 2008-09.

Zeches began his collegiate career at the University of Illinois before transferring to Idaho State, where he played quarterback for three seasons. His father, Jim, spent 16 seasons, including 12 with the Redskins, as an NFL scout.

CHUCK COOK
COLLEGE SCOUT

35TH NFL SEASON
3RD WITH REDSKINS

Chuck Cook is entering his 35th NFL season and his third with the Redskins after joining the organization during the 2017 offseason. He oversees the team's scouting operations in the Midwest region.

Prior to joining the Redskins, Cook previously spent six seasons with the Buffalo Bills from 2011-16. He served in various capacities in his time with the Bills, including two seasons each as Director of College Scouting, as a national scout and as an area scout.

Before his time in Buffalo, Cook spent two seasons with the Miami Dolphins as a regional scout, focusing on the Southwest region in the Dolphins' system from 2008-10. He also spent 11 years as the Director of College Scouting for the Kansas City Chiefs from 1997-2007. In that role, Cook was in charge of coordinating the team's college scouting and preparation for the annual NFL Draft after being promoted to the position in May of 1997. He had previously spent 13 years as a regional scout in the Chiefs' system, focusing primarily on the Southeast.

Cook joined the NFL ranks in 1984, when he was originally hired by the Chiefs after serving as an offensive assistant with the USFL's Arizona Wranglers (1982-83). He began his coaching career at the University of Wyoming from 1980-81.

Cook starred as a wide receiver, running back and defensive back at Southern Mississippi and was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame in 1993. Following his collegiate career, he was a member of training camps with the New York Giants and New York Jets before embarking on his off-field career. He followed the path of his father, Hamp, who served as a scout for the New Orleans Saints for many years.

A native of Andalusia, Ala., Cook earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from Southern Mississippi. He and his wife, Carla, have twin daughters, Carley and Cori, and a son, Colby.

Larry Hess is entering his 18th season with the Washington Redskins and his ninth as Head Athletic Trainer in 2019. He previously spent four seasons as the Redskins Director of Rehabilitation [2006-09] after originally joining the club as Physical Therapist/Assistant Athletic Trainer [2002-05].

Hess oversees the team's athletic training and medical needs and works as a liaison to the coaching staff and front office. In his previous role, Hess directed and implemented the team's rehabilitation program, ensuring athletes' healthy return to the playing field and preventing future injury.

Following the 2018 season, Hess and his staff were named the 2018 Ed Block Courage Award NFL Athletic Training Staff of the Year. It was the first time since 1995 that a Redskins training staff has received the honor. The honor is given to one training staff each season for their distinguished service to their club, community and athletic training profession.

In 2018, Hess played a leading role in creating a state-of-the-art recovery center at Inova Sports Performance Center at Redskins Park, visiting other facilities across various sports and continents before implementing his vision for the nearly 2,000-square-foot center in the facility's southwest corner. The innovative center features a cryotherapy chamber, photobiomodulation therapy bed and sensory deprivation float orbs in addition to a dedicated space for sports vision training.

In addition to his responsibilities with the Redskins, Hess also extends his knowledge and first-hand experience to colleagues and peers by delivering presentations and talks on injuries and conditions that he has encountered through his work with the team.

Hess is a certified strength and conditioning specialist. From 2012-13, he served as the Director of Internal Education for the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society [PFATS]. He served as President of PFATS Research and Education Foundation from 2014-17.

Hess originally entered the NFL with the Miami Dolphins in 1998 as a training camp intern. He spent three seasons working with the Dolphins during training camp, mini-camps and on game days. He also served as the head athletic trainer at Dunbar High School in Fort Myers, Fla.

A native of Pittsburgh, Hess earned his bachelor's degree in life science in 1998 and his master's degree in physical therapy in 2001, both from Nova Southeastern University in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. He has three sons, Matthew, Zachary and Jonathan.

EAGLES 32, REDSKINS 27

PHILADELPHIA - DeSean Jackson's homecoming turned into a highlight show for the speedy receiver.
Carson Wentz threw a pair of deep touchdown passes to Jackson, and the Philadelphia Eagles overcame a 17-point deficit to beat the Washington Redskins 32-27 on Sunday.

Wentz was 28 of 39 for 313 yards and three TDs in his first game since Week 14 after not taking a snap in the preseason. Jackson had eight catches for 154 yards. The Eagles racked up 436 total yards.

Case Keenum threw for 380 yards and three TDs, helping the Redskins build a 17-0 lead in his first start with his fourth team in four seasons.

But Philadelphia's high-powered offense took over and the defense settled down after a sloppy start.

Playing his first game back in Philadelphia since former Eagles coach Chip Kelly cut him following his third Pro Bowl season in 2013, Jackson picked up where he left off six years ago and showed no signs of slowing down at age 32.

Jackson blew past the defense on a third-and-10 in the third quarter, caught Wentz's pass inside the 10 and strolled into the end zone to give the Eagles a 21-20 lead. The 53-yard TD reception was Jackson's second of 50-plus yards in the game and the 31st of his career. Only Hall of Famer Jerry Rice had more at 36.

Zach Ertz caught a 26-yard pass to set up Alshon Jeffery's first career rushing score on the first play of the fourth quarter. Jeffery caught a backward pass from Wentz and fought his way into the end zone. Darren Sproles ran in for the 2-point conversion to extend the lead to 29-20.

The Eagles trailed 17-0 in the second quarter when Jackson made an over-the-shoulder, 51-yard TD catch.

Wentz found Jeffery going across the back of the end zone for a 5-yard TD pass to cut Washington's lead to 20-14 in the third quarter.

Keenum hit Terry McLaurin perfectly in stride on a deep pass for a 70-yard TD to give the Redskins a 17-0 lead, inciting the first boos from fans anticipating a championship season.

The Redskins got the ball to start and scored a touchdown on the season's opening drive for the first time since 2004. Vernon Davis turned a short pass from Keenum into a 48-yard score after hurdling Ronald Darby and breaking a tackle on his way down the right sideline.

Cowboys 31, REDSKINS 21

LANDOVER, Md. [AP] — Dak Prescott probably could have kept running — maybe all the way to the end zone.

Instead, the Dallas Cowboys quarterback stiff-armed Washington Redskins cornerback Josh Norman to put an exclamation point on his longest run of the game. Prescott spent Sunday afternoon carving up the Redskins' defense with his arms and legs to the tune of 26 of 30 passing for 269 yards and three touchdowns and 69 yards rushing in a 31-21 Cowboys victory to improve to 2-0.

A week after putting up a perfect 158.3 QB rating, Prescott responded from an interception to lead Dallas on consecutive touchdown drives of 97, 83 and 75 yards. At one point, he completed 18 consecutive passes and wondered the last time he had an incompletion.

On the verge of a contract extension that's expected to guarantee him over $30 million, Prescott connected with three receivers on the touchdowns: Devin Smith , Jason Witten and Cooper. Less than two weeks removed from ending his holdout and agreeing to a $90 million, six-year deal, Ezekiel Elliott had his workload increased to 23 carries for 111 yards and ran for a touchdown.

It was a game that felt like it was being played deep in the heart of Texas — an entire side of the lower bowl was full of blue and white Cowboys jerseys, who just about outnumbered Redskins fans. Sounds of "Coop" filled the stadium after Cooper's catches, and there was a loud "DE-FENSE" chant when Washington had the ball.

The Redskins [0-2] got a rushing touchdown from Adrian Peterson and passing TDs from Case Keenum to Paul Richardson and rookie Terry McLaurin. But their banged-up defense playing without two starters struggled to contain Prescott or cover his receivers.

Prescott hasn't had a stretch as good as this in his NFL career, which comes at a perfect juncture amid contract negotiations.

BEARS 31, REDSKINS 15

LANDOVER, Md. [AP] — After the Chicago Bears' offense was slow to get going this season, Mitchell Trubisky was excited to speed things up.

Trubisky and the Bears used a no-huddle, hurry-up tempo to snap out of their offensive funk and score 28 first-half points on the way to beating the Washington Redskins 31-15 Monday night. After no passing touchdowns the first two games of the year, Trubisky connected with Taylor Gabriel on three of them in the second quarter alone.

The 2017 second overall pick looked at ease with a fast-paced approach and picked apart Washington's porous defense on 25 of 31 passing for 231 yards. It was the offensive explosion Trubisky predicted would happen this week.

Chicago [2-1] had just a 1-yard touchdown run to show for its first two games, and Trubisky entered the night with a completion percentage of 58.3 and ranked near the bottom of the league in yards per attempt. Facing the Redskins [0-3] brought out some of the best in Trubisky. Trubisky had 173 yards in the first half alone before throwing an interception at the goal line in the third quarter.

With scores of 1, 3 and 36 yards, Gabriel joined Mike Ditka in 1963 as the only Bears receivers with three TD catches in the first half of a game. Gabriel made six catches for 75 yards before leaving in the second half with a concussion.

The Bears took advantage of five turnovers by Redskins quarterback Case Keenum: two interceptions by Ha Ha Clinton-Dix, including a pick six, another by Kyle Fuller and fumbles forced by Khalil Mack and Danny Trevathan.

With the offense up to the defense's speed in the first half, Chicago put up 28 points in two quarters after scoring a total of 19 the past two weeks, 12 of which came on field goals from Eddy Piñeiro.

Mack had two of the Bears' four sacks to continue a dominant start by the defense that didn't give up a Washington TD until midway through the third quarter. Keenum's two TD passes came long after fans chanted for rookie quarterback Dwayne Haskins and booed the Redskins off the field at halftime.

GIANTS 24, REDSKINS 3

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. [AP] — Daniel Jones provided the spark and the New York Giants are feeding off it on what they hope is the path back to the playoff hunt.

Jones threw a touchdown pass and created excitement with his arm and legs, Saquon Barkley's replacement Wayne Gallman scored two touchdowns, and Jabrill Peppers scored on a 32-yard interception return to lead the suddenly revived Giants to 24-3 victory over the winless Washington Redskins on Sunday.

The mistake-prone Redskins [0-4] are heading the other way. They were limited to 176 total yards by the much-maligned New York defense and they didn't get a boost when embattled coach Jay Gruden inserted first-round pick Dwayne Haskins Jr. at quarterback for Case Keenum.

New York intercepted the pair four times, with Haskins throwing the last three.

The Redskins' start is their worst since losing their first five in 2001.
Jones, the No. 6 pick overall in the draft, has the Giants thinking about the here and now since replacing two-time Super Bowl MVP Eli Manning as the starting quarterback. He rallied New York from an 18-point deficit in his first start against the Buccaneers last week, and was solid early, leading New York to touchdown runs on its first two series.

The Duke product was 23 of 31 for 225 yards with two interceptions. Winning tends to overshadow the mistakes.
Gallman, who is going to start for the foreseeable future with Barkley battling a high ankle sprain, caught a 6-yard TD pass and scored on a 1-yard run to stake New York to a 14-0 lead.

Keenum was 6 of 11 for 37 yards and an interception when Haskins came on midway through the second quarter. The move came after Quinton Dunbar picked off Jones on consecutive passes, but Haskins went 9 of 17 for 107 yards and could produce only a 21-yard field goal by Dustin Hopkins on his initial series. He was picked off three times, the last two by Janoris Jenkins .

Keenum, who had battled a foot injury this week, did not sound happy being lifted. He said he was surprised.

Rookie linebacker Ryan Connelly's second interception in as many weeks set up an opening 32-yard drive that Gallman ended with his reception. Gallman's short run ended a 13-play, 94-yard march the Redskins kept alive when a third-down holding penalty on cornerback Fabian Moreau nullified a sack.

Washington was flagged 12 times for 58 yards.

Jones kept the first drive alive with a 5-yard pass to Sterling Shepard on a gutsy decision by coach Pat Shurmur to go for it on fourth-and-2 at the Redskins 24.

Aldrick Rosas kicked a 30-yard field goal on the final play of the first half and Peppers closed out the scoring with his interception return.

PATRIOTS 33, REDSKINS 7

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Playing before an appreciative audience in a place far from home, Tom Brady helped the New England Patriots stay unbeaten by picking apart the lowly Washington Redskins.

While he was at it, the 42-year-old quarterback climbed past a former star in the NFL record book.

Brady threw for 348 yards and three touchdowns, and the Patriots got another strong performance from their defense in a 33-7 rout of the winless Redskins on Sunday.

Now in his 20th season, Brady whisked by Brett Favre into third place on the career list with 71,923 yards passing. Brady now trails only Peyton Manning (71,940 yards) and Drew Brees (74,845).

Brady also edged closer to Manning's record 539 touchdown passes, connecting with Julian Edelman, Brandon Bolden and Ryan Izzo to bring his total to 527.
His prowess on the football field is rarely surprising, but the reaction he received was certainly unexpected. Thousands of fans in the crowd wore blue Patriots jerseys — many of them No. 12 with BRADY on the back — and were cheering for the reigning Super Bowl champions from warmups to well after the final whistle.
Shrugging off four sacks, Brady completed 28 of 42 passes — including a 15-yarder to Edelman in the third quarter to eclipse Favre.

This is the fifth time in franchise history that New England has started the season 5-0, and only the second time since 2007.

Playing for the first time since breaking his leg against Philadelphia last December, Redskins quarterback Colt McCoy went 18 for 27 for 119 yards and an interception. McCoy began the season behind Case Keenum and rookie Dwayne Haskins Jr., but got the start over the injured Keenum and inexperienced Haskins for the Redskins (0-5).

Washington had only 220 yards in offense and was 1 for 11 on third-down conversions.
It's the first time in franchise history New England has four straight games with at least five sacks. In addition, the Patriots completed a fifth consecutive game without allowing a touchdown pass, the first team to pull off that feat since the 1988 Cleveland Browns.

The defeat kept the pressure on Redskins coach Jay Gruden, whose job status appears to be tenuous in the wake of his team's 0-5 start. Gruden is 35-49-1 over five-plus seasons with Washington.

"No one's told me anything," Gruden said. "I don't have a concern. If the key works Monday, keep working, go attack the Miami Dolphins and plan on getting our first win next week."

Washington travels to Miami next week to face the winless Dolphins, who absorbed a 43-0 beatdown from New England on Sept. 15.

After Brady's 10-yard TD pass to Izzo with 9:14 left made it 33-7, the chant "Brady! Brady!" rose from the stands while thousands of Redskins backers fled to the exits.
McCoy completed a 12-yard pass on Washington's first play from scrimmage. Two short runs and a sack followed, but New England's opening possession also ended with Brady getting dumped in his own backfield.
The Redskins jumped on top when Steven Sims Jr. scored on a 65-yard end around, but the Patriots led 12-7 at halftime and tacked on two touchdowns in the third quarter.

The difference between the seasoned Brady and untested McCoy (now 1-6 as a starter with Washington) was made evident late in the second quarter. With 58 seconds left, McCoy forced a pass that was intercepted by Jason McCourty , who took it 16 yards to the Washington 11.

Brady cautiously completed a short pass and twice threw the ball away before accepting a field goal try that kept New England's momentum flowing into halftime.

REDSKINS 17, DOLPHINS 16

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. [AP] — It's no surprise a matchup between winless teams was decided by a dropped pass.

Running back Kenyan Drake couldn't handle Ryan Fitzpatrick's quick throw in the flat on a 2-point conversion try with 6 seconds left Sunday, allowing the Washington Redskins to escape with their first victory of the year by beating the Miami Dolphins 17-16.

Drake had four defenders between him and the end zone and probably wouldn't have scored even if he had secured the ball. But the drop put the brakes on a frantic comeback by the Dolphins, who trailed 17-3 when Fitzpatrick replaced Josh Rosen to start the fourth quarter.
Redskins rookie Terry McLaurin caught two touchdown passes, and veteran Adrian Peterson more than doubled his season rushing total with 118 for Bill Callahan in his first game as interim coach.

Washington [1-5] looked like a different team after firing coach Jay Gruden, although the caliber of the opposition had something to do with that. The Dolphins [0-5] remained winless under rookie coach Brian Flores but helped their chances of securing the No. 1 draft pick in April.

When asked about the two-point conversion, Flores said he was going for the win.

Drake, however, said another running back practiced that play, and not him.

Fitzpatrick led two touchdown drives, including a climactic 75-yard march that began with 2:02 left. After he hit DeVante Parker for an 11-yard score to cut the deficit to one point, Flores decided to go for 2.

Drake split wide left, went in motion and had traffic around him when the pass was thrown his way.
Although Miami's defense mustered its best effort of the season, McLaurin slipped behind the secondary to catch scoring passes of 25 and 33 yards from Case Keenum, who returned after missing one game because of a foot injury.

McLaurin, a third-round draft pick who has been one of the Redskins' few bright spots this year, totaled four receptions for 100 yards.

Callahan gave Peterson a significant workload as expected, and the four-time All-Pro running back carried 23 times to reach the 100-yard mark for the 56th time.
After making a diving interception, Redskins linebacker Shaun Dion Hamilton rose and trotted 35 yards to the end zone, waving for his teammates to join him. More than a dozen did to strike a pose for photographers.

Miami's offense generated few cheers from the half-empty stadium until the end, and remained on pace for the lowest-scoring 16-game season in NFL history.

The Dolphins used six offensive linemen at times and converted two fourth downs, one with special teams trickery. They attempted an onside kick, which was foiled by a penalty.

Nothing could reverse their fortunes. Miami never led and has been ahead for only 3 minutes, 49 seconds this season.

Washington intercepted Rosen twice and sacked him five times before Flores benched him.

REDSKINS: Callahan said Keenum will remain the starter when the Redskins play host to San Francisco on Oct. 20. Washington won the last time the teams met two years ago.

49ers 9, Redskins 0

LANDOVER, Md. [AP] — Nick Bosa sacked Case Keenum to run out the clock, belly flopped onto the field and rode it like a Slip 'N Slide.

Bosa and the San Francisco 49ers Slip 'N Slided their way to an ugly 9-0 win at the Washington Redskins in steady rain and driving wind Sunday to remain undefeated. It wasn't pretty, but San Francisco is 6-0 for the third time in franchise history, and first since 1990.

San Francisco coach Kyle Shanahan thought about flopping onto his old home field with his players, but watched them gleefully instead after beating the team that fired him and his father, Mike, in 2013. Shanahan knew from his time as Washington's offensive coordinator how bad the FedEx Field surface can be in normal weather and adjusted along the way.

Shanahan's bunch didn't look like an unbeaten powerhouse in horrific conditions that made life difficult on quarterback Jimmy Garoppolo and the entire offense. Garoppolo bounced back from a dreadful first half to finish a passable 12 of 21 for 151 yards passing.
Robbie Gould made field goals from 28, 22 and 29 yards to provide the only offense of the game.

San Francisco's defense continued its dominant run after holding the Los Angeles Rams to seven points last week and the Cleveland Browns to three before that. The Niners are the first team since 2005 and sixth since 1990 to limit an opponent to seven or fewer points and fewer than 200 net yards of offense in three consecutive games.

After the team's first shutout since Week 1 of the 2016 season — forcing Adrian Peterson to fumble in the third quarter — defensive lineman DeForest Buckner was upset the defense only got one turnover.

The weather seemed a perfect fit for interim Redskins coach Bill Callahan's run-first, run-second and run-third mentality. Washington [1-6] started the game with 10 rushing plays and Peterson ran for 81 yards on 20 carries, but they were shut out for the first time this season.

Redskins lineman Ereck Flowers wasn't sure why 49ers players did mud angels and slid all over the field in celebration, but put it on Washington for letting it happen.

Among those who braved the rain, more than half were 49ers fans — a trend that has haunted the Redskins this season. A "Let's go Niners!" chant broke out in the fourth quarter among those in Jerry Rice, Ronnie Lott, Joe Montana and other jerseys from the organization's storied past.

Linebacker Kwon Alexander, who forced Peterson's fumble, said, "It definitely felt like a home game."

The Redskins had alumni in town for their annual "Homecoming Weekend," but lost their eighth in a row at FedEx Field.
Both offenses struggled mightily in a sloppy first half.

Washington took the opening drive and chewed up more than eight minutes on nine rushes and just one pass, but came up empty when Dustin Hopkins missed wide right from 39 yards. Peterson gained 57 yards on the ground for Washington but just 8 after the first drive.

Gould missed from 45 yards in the second quarter. For the half, the 49ers totaled 68 yards as Garoppolo finished 3 of 10 with 10 yards passing and were shut out in the game's first 30 minutes for the first time this year.

It was the first 0-0 first half in the NFL since Week 17 in 2017 between the Cowboys and Eagles.

Vikings 19, Redskins 9

MINNEAPOLIS [AP] — Near the end of this methodical victory for the Minnesota Vikings, the crowd directed a loud cheer toward a player on the visiting team.

When Adrian Peterson appeared on the giant video screens during the 2-minute warning with an announcement of his latest climb up the NFL's all-time rushing list, the Washington Redskins running back took off his helmet, kissed two of his fingers and waved them to the fans who rooted for him in purple not that long ago.

The star of the show, though, was Peterson's successor. Dalvin Cook gave the Vikings yet another stellar performance.

Cook had 171 total yards and the game's only touchdown, helping Kirk Cousins beat his old team on the first try and carrying the Vikings to a 19-9 victory over the Redskins on Thursday night.

Cook, the NFL leader in yards from scrimmage, rushed 23 times for 98 yards and caught five passes for 73 yards for the Vikings [6-2] in their fourth straight win. Cousins went 23 for 26 for 285 yards without a turnover against the Redskins [1-7], who drafted him in 2012 and made him the full-time starter in 2015 before he became a free agent and signed with the Vikings in 2018.

Nobody on the Redskins lately warrants that assessment. Case Keenum, the quarterback Cousins replaced, had his return to Minnesota spoiled by a concussion that kept him out of the second half and thrust rookie Dwayne Haskins back into action. Two plays after Daron Payne and Landon Collins stuffed Cousins for no gain on a fourth-and-1 quarterback sneak at the Minnesota 34, Haskins overthrew Terry McLaurin, and Anthony Harris intercepted.

Keenum's last time in the stadium was nearly two years ago, when his last-play touchdown pass to Stefon Diggs gave the Vikings a victory over New Orleans in a divisional round playoff game, but there was little reason to make this game a memory. Keenum went 12 for 16 for 130 yards.

Diggs caught all seven passes that came his way from Cousins, racking up 143 yards in his own tribute of sorts to the "Minneapolis Miracle." This game was for the guys in the ground game, though. Alexander Mattison added 61 yards on 13 rushes, and Minnesota more than doubled Washington's total yardage, 434-216.

Peterson had 14 carries for 76 yards and in the process moved up to sixth place on the NFL's career rushing list with 13,701 yards by passing Jerome Bettis and LaDainian Tomlinson. Cook hugged Peterson on the field after the game.

The same goes for Cook, who was drafted in the second round in 2017.

The screen pass to Cook was the favored weapon, highlighted by a zigzagging 31-yard gain late in the second quarter that set up his 4-yard run for a score with 11 seconds left on third down. Offensive coordinator Kevin Stefanski made a bold inside zone call for Cook, who rewarded the confidence by powering his way through safety Troy Apke and cornerback Fabian Moreau at the goal line.

The Vikings ran a third-and-15 draw play to Cook from the 25 early in the fourth quarter before settling Dan Bailey's fourth field goal of the night, another conservative decision that even drew some boos from a crowd that was probably a bit bored at that point by a game bogged down by penalties and ball-control play.

Diggs went without a fumble over each of the last three seasons, and the Vikings recovered the two he had as a rookie in 2015. This year, he has already fumbled four times, the most in the league among non-quarterbacks, and the Vikings have lost three of them. Diggs also dropped what would have been a touchdown pass last week at Detroit, a catchable ball that slipped through his hands on third down in the fourth quarter.

Bills 24, Redskins 9

MINNEAPOLIS [AP] — ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. [AP] — Micah Hyde sees no reason why the Bills should apologize for taking advantage of a soft season-opening schedule.

The Buffalo safety needed only to point to how the Bills have flipped their record, going from 2-6 a year ago to 6-2, following Sunday's 24-9 win over the Washington Redskins, who dropped to 1-8 in rookie quarterback Dwayne Haskins' first career start.

Buffalo is off to its best start since going 7-1 in 1993. But skeptics can point out the Bills' six wins have come against teams that entered this weekend with a combined 7-31 record.

The Bills didn't exactly ease concerns following an inconsistent performance against an opponent that has already changed coaches and turned to Haskins with starter Case Keenum in the NFL's concussion protocol.

After leading 17-3 following its first three possessions, Buffalo allowed Washington to cut it to eight before rookie Devin Singletary scored on a 2-yard run with 2:21 left.

Washington matched its worst start to a season since 1998. Its offense has now gone 13 quarters since scoring a touchdown, dating to Keenum's 33-yard TD to Terry McLaurin in a 17-16 win at Miami.

Haskins was efficient in going 5 of 8 for 57 yards in the first half, when running back Adrian Peterson was exposing holes in Buffalo's suspect run defense by gaining 101 yards on 10 carries.

But the Ohio State product was unable to fill the offensive void in the second half, when Peterson was limited to 7 yards on eight carries.

Haskins finished 15 of 22 for 144 yards while Dustin Hopkins accounted for all of Washington's points with three field goals, the longest from 39 yards.

The Bills endured issues on both sides of the ball.

Buffalo's run defense started the game by continuing its porous performance from a week earlier, when it allowed a season-worst 218 yards rushing in a 31-13 loss to Philadelphia.

The defense responded in the second half by limiting Washington to 78 yards of offense and a field goal.

Up 17-9, the Bills finally put the game away in the final six minutes, starting with cornerback Tre'Davious White sacking Haskins for a 9-yard loss. That forced Washington to punt from its own 4 to set up Singletary's score on the following drive.

Singletary finished with a season-best 95 yards rushing and 140 yards from scrimmage — the most since LeSean McCoy had 147 two years ago. The rookie took advantage of his most playing time this season, appearing to displace Frank Gore as Buffalo's featured running back.

Jets 34, Redskins 17

MINNEAPOLIS [AP] — LANDOVER, Md. [AP] — Sam Darnold more than made up for an ill-timed interception by throwing for 293 yards and a career-high four touchdowns, and the New York Jets routed rookie quarterback Dwayne Haskins and the Washington Redskins 34-17 Sunday for their second consecutive victory.

Darnold was 19 of 30 passing and tossed touchdowns to Daniel Brown, Robby Anderson, Ryan Griffin and former Redskins receiver Jamison Crowder. Despite getting picked off deep in his own territory by Jon Bostic, the 2018 third overall pick bounced back and now has 11 TDs and 10 INTs this season.

The Jets [3-7] sacked Haskins six times, including three by safety Jamal Adams, and linebacker Neville Hewitt intercepted him in his return to the lineup. Le'Veon Bell ran for a 1-yard TD, Griffin had a career-high 109 yards receiving and New York eclipsed 400 yards of offense for the first time in 20 games.

Washington [1-9] set a franchise record by going 16 consecutive quarters without a touchdown before Derrius Guice scored on a 45-yard screen pass early in the fourth. Haskins was 19 of 35 passing for 214 yards and threw TD passes to Guice and tight end Jeremy Sprinkle in his first game since being named starter for the rest of the season.

That feels like a long time away for two teams on pace for a top-five draft pick. The Jets look like they've made some semblance of progress under first-year coach Adam Gase, while the Redskins are 1-4 under interim replacement Bill Callahan and off to their worst 10-game start since 1961, when they were 0-9-1.

The Redskins' 16 quarters without a touchdown were the most by any team since the 2000 Baltimore Ravens. They broke the franchise record of 13 quarters set by the 1936 Boston Redskins before Guice finally broke out in his return from a Week 1 knee injury.

Adams became the second defensive back in the past decade with three sacks in a game, matching what Mike Hilton of the Pittsburgh Steelers did in 2017. With six sacks, he set the Jets single-season franchise record for the most by a defensive back.

The 24-year-old is on a roll. Adams led the Jets with nine tackles and two forced fumbles last week against the Giants.

After coming in 0 for 3 on coach's challenges, Gase went 2 for 2 against the Redskins. He correctly challenged the first play of the game — an 8-yard pass from Darnold to Crowder that was initially ruled to have hit the ground — and even got officials to overturn offensive pass interference against New York early in the fourth.

Redskins owner Dan Snyder and president Bruce Allen already pulled the plug on Jay Gruden, but could another coaching staff change be coming? Washington allowed 34 points to a team that entered with the worst offense in the league and continues to be dead last on third down, putting defensive coordinator Greg Manusky's job in jeopardy.

Jets: Rookie RT Chuma Edoga left with an ankle injury and was replaced by Brandon Shell. ... Played without DBs Darryl Roberts [calf] and Matthias Farley [quadriceps] and LBs C.J. Mosley [groin] and LB Paul Worrilow [quadriceps].

Redskins 19, Lions 16

LANDOVER, Md. [AP] — Dwayne Haskins picked up his first NFL victory but inexplicably didn't take the final snap in victory formation.

Haskins was celebrating the Washington Redskins' 19-16 comeback win over the Detroit Lions by taking a selfie with a fan who was in the first row. The only problem: The game wasn't quite over, and backup Case Keenum went on the field to kneel down and run out the clock in Washington's second win of the season.

The rookie quarterback made his share of mistakes on the field — and forgetting to get back on the field — during an ugly game against the Lions, but he was there when the Redskins needed him most. Haskins was able to brush off a wrist injury that contributed to some overthrows and the bad look of missing the final play in large part because he guided Washington into field-goal range to finally get in the win column.

The 15th overall draft pick was 13 of 29 for 156 yards and an interception and could approach it like all's well that ends well after Dustin Hopkins connected on a 39-yard field goal with 16 seconds left and the Redskins snapped a four-game skid and won their first game at home in 13 months.

Haskins scrambled for 11 yards and completed passes of 5 yards to Kelvin Harmon and 17 to Terry McLaurin to set up Hopkins' go-ahead field goal. Cornerback Fabian Moreau's interception of Jeff Driskel — the third thrown by the Lions quarterback — got the Redskins [2-9] the ball back with 2 seconds left and set in motion the weird ending that confused even interim coach Bill Callahan.

Haskins drew criticism for overthrowing McLaurin and other wide-open receivers, and Washington had to settle for a field goal each time. He said his right wrist was pretty banged up, but responded "I'm good" when asked to elaborate.

In his third start since taking over for injured Lions starter Matthew Stafford, Driskel was picked off twice by Moreau and once by Quinton Dunbar. The interception by Dunbar in the final minute hurt the most because it gave Haskins and the Redskins the ball back to win it in regulation.

Undrafted rookie Steven Sims muffed the catch on his kickoff return early in the second quarter. Then he took advantage of the Lions' blown coverage to go 91 yards for a touchdown.

It was Washington's first kick return touchdown since 2015 and another bright spot in a lost season because Sims has shown he can be a difference-maker on offense and special teams.

Redskins cornerback Josh Norman was in uniform but only saw the field on special teams. After multiple reports Sunday morning that he'd be inactive, it was a bit of surprise Norman played at all.

Callahan said he met with defensive coordinator Greg Manusky, secondary coach Ray Horton and Norman on Thursday when the decision was made to demote him. Callahan said it was Norman's choice to be in uniform even though the 31-year-old was only set to play if another injury occurred.

Norman has drawn his share of criticism during a rough season, his fourth since signing a $75 million, five-year deal with Washington. Manusky said he "couldn't tell you why" Norman has struggled.

Dec. 1, 2019 GAME 12 Bank of America Field [Charlotte, NC.]

Redskins 29, Panthers 21

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Washington Redskins have struggled all season to run the ball and score points.

But veteran running back Adrian Peterson believes the Redskins have finally found "the right recipe" with a two-pronged rushing attack, one they used to overpower the Carolina Panthers on Sunday.

Derrius Guice racked up 129 yards and two touchdowns on the ground, Peterson ran for 99 yards and a score and the Redskins made a late goal-line stand to secure a 29-21 victory over the Panthers for their second straight victory.

The Redskins piled up 248 yards rushing and scored a season high in points.

Guice, who had only 74 yards rushing and no touchdown in his entire NFL career coming in, averaged 12.9 yards per carry against a Carolina defense that came into the game ranked 27th in the league against the run.

Peterson likes the shared approach, calling it "relaxing."

The Panthers' (5-7) fourth straight loss could put coach Ron Rivera's job in jeopardy.

The Redskins spotted the Panthers a 14-0 lead after quarterback Kyle Allen opened the game 8 of 8 passing for 106 yards with touchdown passes to wide receivers Curtis Samuel and D.J. Moore on Carolina's first two possessions.

But what looked like a Carolina rout quickly turned.

The Redskins upped the pressure on Allen and the Panthers, forcing eight punts and an interception on the next nine possessions. Washington limited the Panthers to 65 yards on those nine drives and neutralized Christian McCaffrey, holding the NFL's leader in yards from scrimmage to 102 total yards, well below his season average.

Allen broke the string when he scrambled for a 17-yard touchdown with 1:51 left to cut the lead to 29-21.

Then, after most of the Carolina fans had left the stadium, the Panthers executed a perfect onside kick with Jermaine Carter recovering near midfield to give Allen one more chance. The second-year QB moved the Panthers to the 1-yard line, but Washington stopped Carolina on four straight downs with Chris Odum sacking Allen after a 23-yard loss and Nate Orchard recovering the loose ball giving the Redskins their first win here since 1998.
Both Odum and Orchard were signed to the active roster earlier this week.

This was the fourth time this season the Panthers have reached an opponent's 3-yard line needing a touchdown for the tying or go-ahead score, but come away with nothing with the game on the line.

As in the previous three, it was McCaffrey who was stopped short of the goal line — this time on first and second down in the final seconds. The Panthers tried to throw on third and fourth down but Allen eventually was sacked and fumbled, ending the drive.

Dec. 8, 2019 GAME 13 Lambeau Field (Green Bay, WI)

Packers 20, Redskins 15

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Aaron Jones rushed for a season-high 134 yards and a touchdown on just 16 carries, Aaron Rodgers threw for 195 yards and the Green Bay Packers did enough to beat the Washington Redskins 20-15 Sunday.

Jones had his third 100-yard rushing game of the season and hauled in six catches for 58 yards. With fewer than 3 minutes left in the game, the third-year running back had more total yards (192) than the Redskins (187).

Dwayne Haskins completed 16 of 27 passes for 170 yards and a touchdown with an interception for Washington (3-10), which was officially eliminated from playoff contention. The rookie quarterback was sacked four times.
Adrian Peterson became just the sixth back in NFL history to reach the 14,000-yard mark, running for 76 yards and a score. He now has 14,036 yards in a 13-year career. Curtis Martin is fifth all-time with 14,101 yards.

Derrius Guice exited after only five carries with a knee injury.

Kenny Clark and Kyler Fackrell combined for a sack of Haskins on Washington's opening drive for an 11-yard loss. Haskins and the Redskins started the day with three straight 3-and-outs in the franchise's first-ever December trip to Lambeau Field.

Jones scored from 4 yards out on the Packers' opening drive. It was Jones' 12th rushing touchdown and 15th TD of the season. Rodgers found Robert Tonyan for a 12-yard touchdown on Green Bay's other first-quarter score.

Haskins led Washington on an 11-play, 95-yard drive that was capped by a 2-yard score by Peterson with 3:44 to play in the first quarter. Dustin Hopkins missed the extra point.

Green Bay (10-3) led 14-6 at halftime.

After Mason Crosby's field goal, Hopkins nailed a 52-yarder to cut it to 17-9 before the end of the third.

Crosby was good on a 33-yard attempt with 2:34 to go to seal the win.

Haskins linked up with Terry McLaurin on a 13-yard score late. Haskins was stopped by Blake Martinez on the two-point conversion.

Dec. 15, 2019 GAME 14 FedEx Field [Landover,Md.]

Eagles 37, Redskins 27

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) —
Carson Wentz recovered from a disastrous fumble by leading a 75-yard, go-ahead scoring drive and throwing his third touchdown pass of the day to keep the Philadelphia Eagles' NFC East hopes on track with a 37-27 victory at the Washington Redskins on Sunday.

Wentz threw TD passes to running back Miles Sanders, tight end Zach Ertz and receiver Greg Ward and was 30 of 43 for 266 yards. The 4-yard pass from Wentz to Ward with 26 seconds left put Philadelphia up for good and electrified a stadium full of green-clad Eagles fans.

Wentz's ability to bounce back from some accuracy issues and a turnover means the Eagles (7-7) are still in the thick of the division race with a game against the division rival Dallas Cowboys coming next week.
Of course, Wentz didn't do it by himself. Sanders rushed for 122 yards and a touchdown and caught six passes for 50 yards. The Eagles' defense that struggled to stop Washington's Dwayne Haskins most of the afternoon got him to fumble for a touchdown by Nigel Bradham on the game's final play.

Coming off an overtime victory against Eli Manning and the New York Giants, a loss to Washington (3-11) could've had the Eagles facing elimination next week. Allowing an early 75-yard TD pass from Haskins to Terry McLaurin and falling behind 7-3, 14-10, 21-17 and 27-24 made that a distinct possibility.

Instead, Wentz was able to work some magic when it mattered most.

PETERSON TIES PAYTON

Adrian Peterson's 10-yard touchdown early in the fourth quarter gave him 110 for his career and tied him with Walter Payton for fourth on the all-time list. Peterson had 16 carries for 66 yards.

Dec. 22 2019 | GAME 15 | FedEx Field [Landover,Md.]

Giants 41, Redskins 35

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Daniel Jones put together the best performance of his rookie season fresh off an ankle injury, throwing for 352 yards and five touchdown passes in the New York Giants' 41-35 overtime victory against the Washington Redskins on Sunday.

Jones was 28 of 42 in his first action since missing the past two games with a sprained right ankle. He tossed two TDs to Kaden Smith — including the game-winner — and also connected with Sterling Shepard, Saquon Barkley and Cody Latimer. His career-best fifth TD pass, 3 yards to Smith, came with 4:15 left in overtime after the Redskins (3-12) tied it in the final minute of regulation.
Barkley was the perfect complement for Jones and tormented a Redskins secondary missing several regulars. He was responsible for 279 total yards: 189 rushing and 90 receiving and a score each way.

The trio of Jones, Barkley and Shepard showed further evidence that whoever is running the Giants (4-11) next season has talented building blocks to work with on offense, along with a high draft pick.

With the loss, the Redskins moved into the driver's seat to draft Ohio State pass rusher Chase Young.

The Chase Young Bowl was a showcase of prolific playmaking and porous defense. Barkley ran for 108 yards on his first four carries, while Redskins quarterback Dwayne Haskins was 12 of 15 for 133 yards and two TD passes before injuring his left ankle on the first play of the second half.

Veteran Case Keenum relieved Haskins and threw his first passes since Oct. 24, when he was concussed at Minnesota. He was 16 of 22 for 158 yards and rushed for the tying score with 29 seconds left in the fourth.

With and without Haskins, the Redskins offense similarly showed off some young weapons to entice a strong coaching candidate. Undrafted free agent receiver Steven Sims caught two TD passes, and third-round steal Terry McLaurin had seven receptions for 86 yards.

Dec. 29 2019 | GAME 16 | AT&T Stadium (Arlington,Texas)

Cowboys 47, Redskins 16

ARLINGTON, Texas. (AP) — Jason Garrett says he doesn't know if he'll be coach of the Dallas Cowboys next year, and owner Jerry Jones won't even acknowledge that there's a decision to make regarding the leadership of an underachieving club.

The mystery of a team that sagged under the weight of high expectations now becomes the mystery of what happens to a coach who has an expiring contract and never took the Cowboys beyond the divisional round of the playoffs in nine full seasons.

The Cowboys were eliminated from the postseason despite a 47-16 win over Washington on Sunday because Philadelphia won the NFC East by beating the New York Giants.

Dallas (8-8) lost control of its postseason fate with a 17-9 loss to the Eagles last week. Now the fate of Garrett is in the hands of Jones.

Dak Prescott threw four touchdown passes, three of them to Michael Gallup, while falling 1 yard short of Tony Romo's club record of 4,903 yards passing in a season. Dallas could have made the playoffs without a winning record for the third time in franchise history. Instead, the Eagles won the division for the second time in three years by beating the Giants 34-17.

Case Keenum had a TD toss as the Redskins (3-13) secured the No. 2 pick in the draft in what could be their final game under interim coach Bill Callahan. The former Dallas assistant replaced Jay Gruden, fired in October with Washington at 0-5.

About the time the Cowboys put away the Redskins on Prescott's second TD pass to Gallup for a 37-16 lead late in the third quarter, Philadelphia went up 10 with a TD after the Giants lost a fumble at their 2-yard line.

In Gallup's first career game with multiple touchdowns, the second-year player had five catches for 98 yards.

Ezekiel Elliott, who helped fuel Super Bowl hopes by signing a $90 million extension to end a long holdout days before the opener, had a 32-yard touchdown run and a 13-yard scoring catch.

The Cowboys won their first three games after Elliott signed the big contract, but lost eight of the next 12 to put their postseason fate in the hands of the Eagles.

Dallas was hoping to build on the first playoff win for Prescott and Elliott last season before a divisional-round loss to the Los Angeles Rams that ended the club's 23rd consecutive season without reaching the NFC championship game.

It's the fourth time in Garrett's nine full seasons that Dallas has finished .500. The first three ran consecutively from 2011-13, with the Cowboys losing the finale each time when a win would have put them in the playoffs.
